

COYNE SOUNDS WARNING ON SPENDING BINGE

Canada 'Living It Up' in Grand Manner

WINNIPEG (CP)—James Coyne, governor of the Bank of Canada, today said Canadians have been "living beyond our means on a grand scale" for at least five years.

He said bluntly that Canada must resolve to live within its means—is expanding its capital resources and consumer expenditures—or face going even deeper into the red in the nation's foreign debt.

A succession of big annual deficits in international payments since the Second World War "shows that our situation is not temporary but is becoming chronic," Mr. Coyne said in a luncheon speech to the Canadian Club of Winnipeg.

This deficit increased last year to around the

1956 level of $1,366,000,000 he said "and seems likely to increase in 1960 to a new record high figure of $1,500,000,000 or more."

Mr. Coyne called for "a more moderate approach to capital spending in Canada" to help the country live within its means and to channel production into goods that would help reduce the big trade deficit.

Willingness to do without foreign capital borrowings, to limit new investments to amounts that can be raised in Canada, would reduce inflationary pressures, cut the annual deficit on international payments and increase Canada's ability to compete in export markets.

Mr. Coyne said an important item in Canada's trade deficit has been in volume of imports of capital goods—machinery and equipment for capital expansion.

The high rate of these imports was "symptomatic of capital spending at a rate which is greater than can be provided out of our own national savings."

In addition there had been a rapid expansion in the importation of consumer goods.

"In other words, we are incurring foreign debt to pay for both a level of capital spending and a standard of comfort which are higher than would be justified by our own earning capacity."

"I have no doubt that our exports could be further increased and our imports could be reduced if we adopted a more moderate approach to capital spending in Canada."

If governments and businesses alike brought about a substantial reduction in capital expenditures, imports of capital goods would be less.

"Moreover, if so much of our own productive resources were not devoted to construction, more could be devoted to production of various kinds of goods for the domestic market at competitive costs and thereby bring about a further reduction in the volume of imports."

U.S. TO PUT MAN IN SPACE NEXT YEAR?

(See Page 5)

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower said today the United States may put a man in space in 1961.

He made the forecast in proposing civilian and military space expenditures of $918,000,000 in fiscal 1961 starting July 1.

Nasa's Mercury manned satellite project "will enter the operational phase" in the new fiscal year, the president said, and "actual manned space flights may be attempted in 1961."

Trade Talks 'Give Hope' Says Fleming

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Fleming today expressed "satisfaction and hope" over developments of last week's vital trade talks at Paris.

In a Commons statement, he also voiced the Canadian government's willingness that Canada be a full member of a reorganized body for European economic co-operation as proposed at the Paris talks.

Mr. Fleming made the statements in an extended report to the House on the Paris conferences, which were aimed at finding a co-operative solution to differences between the two new European free trade blocs and increasing economic aid to under-developed countries.

He and Trade Minister Churchill represented Canada.

He said that the short time available, the meetings "did not attempt to grapple with substantive issues of trade."

However, it did set up a committee to provide "machinery which could come to grips with these issues."

Railway Cost Study Sought

OTTAWA (CP)—Counsel for Manitoba and Alberta plan to ask Canada's royal commission on transportation to sponsor a wide-ranging study of railway costs and revenues by commodity groups.

A notice of motion on the cost proposal has been served on the commission by Arthur Mauro, Manitoba counsel, and J. J. Frawley, representing Alberta.

5 B.C. Groups Open Bid for TV Station

VANCOUVER (CP)—About 150 broadcasters crowded a hotel ballroom here today as the board of broadcast governors began its hearing of five applications for the licence to operate a second television station in Vancouver.

The five private organizations seek to broadcast in the area in competition with the CCG's TV outlet here, CBUT, and at least four United States stations whose signal reaches into the Vancouver area.

Dr. Andrew Stewart, board chairman, announced at the outset of the hearing that the detailed briefs submitted by each applicant to the transport department will not be made public by the board until each of the five has completed its oral submission.

First group to be heard today was Metropolitan Television Limited, which seeks a licence to broadcast on Channel eight from suburban Burnaby.

President of the group is Frank Griffiths, a Vancouver chartered accountant.

HURT IN CRASH

Star Chicago hockey player, Ed Litzemberger, lay under heavy sedation in a hospital today after an auto crash, unaware that his wife, Doreen, was killed in the accident. The 28-year-old athlete's condition several hours after the tragedy, appeared to be less serious than was first feared. (See story page 10.)

Police Guns Blaze In Uganda Tax Riots

KAMPALA, Uganda (Reuters)—Police opened fire with riot guns in Uganda today for the second time in three days as disturbances over tax assessments spread in the eastern part of the country.

Nobody was injured. The crowd reformed after the firing and was finally dispersed with tear gas.

Three hundred extra police were sent to trouble spots in this British territory and the government announced tonight that two companies of the Uganda rifles were being moved in.

Trouble now has spread to a fourth county in the area.

The disturbances grew out of assessments by local committees of the amount of tax people should pay to their African local government authority.

One man was killed when police fired on demonstrators in the Mbale area of eastern Uganda Saturday.

A police plane today dropped leaflets over the region telling Africans an inquiry would be made into the tax grievances and appealing for calm.

JUNGLE BATTLEGROUND EMERGENCY DECLARED

LEOPOLDVILLE, Belgian Congo (Reuters)—The colonial government declared a state of emergency in a jungle battleground of warring tribesmen Sunday after rejecting as "inhuman" a rough settlement reached by their chiefs.

The emergency applied to the central province of Kasai where more than 100 Africans have died in tribal clashes.

RHODESIA 'LION'S DEN'

Crucial Phase For Macmillan

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (UPI)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan arrives today in this stronghold of white supremacy for a visit that may generate new tension on the African racial scene.

It was a 3,000-mile hop from the steamy lowlands of free Nigeria to the crisp heights of this capital of the central African federation. For Macmillan it was a trip into a lion's den.

A large portion of the white population of the federation fears that this visit may be tied in with a move to break up the federation and possibly to free Dr. Hastings Banda, the African nationalist leader who has been in jail 10 months as a threat to law and order.

Many of the black population fear Macmillan may not go far enough in helping them edge out from under the master-and-servant relationship by which Salisbury's 85,000 whites have ruled the 180,000 black citizens since colonial days.

The uneasy federation is made up of Southern and Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland. It was formed six years ago and the inclusion of the almost totally African state of Nyasaland has been widely resented by the negroes.

Back of much of the discontent is the 53-year-old Banda who was charged with sedition last year during the height of a racial clash in the Nyasaland territory in which more than 50 natives were killed.

London newspapers reported he would be released next month. The Colonial Office neither confirmed nor denied the reports but implied he would be held till the governor no longer considers him a threat.

Negro Leaders Boycott Kenya Freedom Talks

LONDON (AP)—Independence-seeking Negro leaders today boycotted the opening of vital talks on Kenya's future because Britain banned a delegate wanted by Kenya authorities as a Mau Mau sympathizer.

Tom Mboya and Ronald Ngala stayed away from the formal launching of the conference after British Colonial Secretary Iain Macleod refused to approve the credentials of the suspected Negro representative.

He was Peter Koyanké, for whom Mboya and Ngala had requested authorization to attend the talks as a special adviser.

The conference, called to write a new constitution for Kenya, began amid public demands by the Negroes for immediate self-rule and political equality with white men in the colony.

OVER U.K. BASES
Cyprus Freedom Delayed

LONDON (Reuters)—A deadlocked conference on Cyprus today decided to postpone independence for the British island colony for one month.

Under an agreement reached here a year ago Cyprus was due to become an independent republic Feb. 19.

The three-day conference ran into a complete deadlock over the size of two British military bases to be retained after independence.

Archbishop Makarios, president-elect of Cyprus, requested the postponement with the approval of Cyprus' vice-president-elect, Fadil Kutchuk.

The other three parties represented at the conference were the British, Greek and Turkish foreign ministers.

Terry Lee Brotherston, 12, of East Sooke, who paddled off on a makeshift raft just minutes before relatives arrived at his home with a boat for him, drowned Sunday afternoon in Sooke Harbor while trying to swim ashore.

Help arrived within minutes but artificial respiration given on the spot, and later by a Sooke Volunteer Fire Department inhalator crew, failed to revive the boy.

The accident occurred shortly after 3:30 p.m. while Terry was setting out his own crab traps about 100 feet off shore, and adjacent to his parents' large piece of property in East Sooke. On shore watching him were Dale Lowe, nine, and Robbie Kennedy, eight, his cousins, and his younger brother, Steven, eight.

The raft tipped, throwing Terry into the water. He called out to his shore-mates to go for help, but then he gave up a long struggle to climb on the raft and started to swim for shore. Dale Lowe ran to the Brotherston home to tell his and the others' parents.

Don Lowe, Dale's father and uncle of the victim, rushed to the scene and plunged into the water to find the lad under the surface about 40 feet from shore. He started artificial respiration while others sent for the fire department, RCMP from Colwood, and Dr. Jeffrey Bishop of Sooke.

TERRY BROTHERSTON ... fatal venture

It also was Mr. Lowe who had provided the boat for Terry to use instead of the raft in tending his crab traps.

Struggled 15 Minutes in Water

According to his friends, Terry was able to swim, but was hampered Sunday by his clothing and heavy rubber boots. He was in the water about 15 minutes before he sank, they said.

The family had lived in Langford until last September, and moved to East Sooke in time for the children to start school there. Terry attended Saseenos Elementary School.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brotherston, said he was "crazy about the water," and spent all his spare time either down at the shore or paddling on his raft.

The tragedy occurred about one-quarter mile from the family home. Police said no inquest will be held into the death, but that there will be an inquiry.

Surviving besides his parents and brother Steven are a sister, Kathy, seven; another brother, Brydon, two; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Johnson, of Langford, who were visiting the Brotherstons.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

We acknowledge Thee, O God, as Lord of all creation. We are thankful that final control of outer space is in Thy hands. May we find the way to turn over to Thee the control of inner space. Forgive us that from our emptiness of spirit and from the vacancies of our hearts there rises into the world the poison of fear, hate, vindictive thought, and violent act. May the Spirit of Him who loved men at the price of His own death inspire us to bring peaceful thought and loving action into this world. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.

UP AGAINST A BRICK MURAL?

Non-Union Art Hassle

TORONTO (CP)—Union officials will be asked today why they insist that Canada's largest mural, already two-thirds completed, be finished by a union artist.

The Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers of America (CLC) has served notice that it wants artist R. York Wilson and two assistants to join the union.

The 100-foot mural is the only non-union work being carried out at the O'Keefe Centre here.

Mr. Wilson maintains "fine art is an individual and creative form of expression. I don't see how you can possibly unionize people who work as individuals."

"If a body of people like this can dictate to creative artists, it poses a grave danger to creative painting."

Harry Colnett, Canadian vice-president of the union, said the union has "no intention of interfering with the God-given gifts of these people."

"I fail to see their fear. Perhaps it's a matter of further education to explain our point."

Mr. Wilson, a Toronto-born artist who has painted murals here and in Montreal, has designed a panorama depicting arts and culture through the ages. The cultural centre is to be opened next September.

He will meet today with O'Keefe and union officials, David Roche, vice-president of O'Keefe brewing company, said union officials must explain their stand.

Charles F. Comfort, noted painter, newly appointed director of the National Gallery and president of the Royal Canadian Academy, said a mural "is not within the jurisdiction of a union, as much as I respect unions."

"On the face of it," said Mr. Comfort, "this is ridiculous."

NEW PLEA BY FARMERS FOR MORE JAPAN TRADE

WINNIPEG (UPI) — Prairie farmers today asked the federal government for the second time in a month to lift trade barriers on Japanese imports.

Manitoba Pool Elevators president W. J. Parker on behalf of western farm organizations, asked in a letter to Prime Minister Diefenbaker for assurance that there would be an increase in Japanese imports during the year.

He said Diefenbaker failed to give this assurance in his reply to the letter. In his answer Diefenbaker said that Japan was enjoying "most favored nation" treatment but that "for certain textile and other products Japanese sales have expanded as such a rate as to be a source of serious injury to Canadian producers."

EGHAM, England — Viscount Glerawly is the 36-year-old son of the noble Earl of Annesley (pronounced Ansel).

He has a coat of arms, a three-page mention in De-brett's, a massive pedigree—and just doesn't care.

"Frankly, mate," the vis-count told a reporter, "all this title nonsense doesn't mean a thing to me. I'm more interested in getting on with my job."

The job is not farming a huge estate or guiding the destiny of a gigantic combine. It is being a $30-a-week trainee engineer with the post office.

"There's no money in the title," said the viscount.

But De-brett's hasn't accepted it and even seems to be a little self-conscious about the viscount.

His job isn't listed but he is described as "late Royal Navy."

"To read that," snorted the viscount, "you'd think I was a retired officer or something. Actually, mate, I was a leading wireman."

School Site Payment Bid Brings Protests

Opposition to Victoria's bid for compensation from the Greater Victoria School Board for the S. J. Willis School site was voiced by leaders in the three outside municipalities over the weekend.

The city, which still owns the land on which the junior high school was built in 1949, last week decided to demand payment for the site. It seeks $51,750, the 1949 value of the 11.5 acres.

If Greater Victoria School Board pays the money, it will come from taxpayers in all four municipalities and the provincial government coffers as well.

Oak Bay reeve George Murdoch said his municipality owns three school sites—Willows and Monterey Elementary Schools and Oak Bay High School.

Title to these lands was retained by Oak Bay because some day it hopes to run its own municipal school district again.

"If Victoria tries to collect from us for the S. J. Willis site, we can collect from them," he said.

George Austin, Saanich deputy reeve, said Victoria will "get a fight" if it tries to obtain compensation now.

Esquimalt Coun. G. K. Sammon said the city was unfair in establishing a market value for the site. Esquimalt sells land at assessed values—considerably below market values—for school sites, he said.

HANEY — Only $500,000 a year now is being spent to train teachers in B.C. when $2,500,000 is needed, Dean Neville Scarfe of the faculty of education at UBC, said here Saturday night. He added that if the province's road-building program was cut a few miles each year, enough money would be available for teacher-training.

PARIS (AP) — France is expected to explode her first atomic weapon in the Sahara any day now. A successful blast would put France in the "nuclear weapon-club"—restricted so far to the United States, Russia and Britain.

The French defence ministry warned planes flying over the African desert to stay clear of certain areas beginning today. Speculation arose that the French were waiting for favorable weather.

The device set off will be atomic, not a more-powerful hydrogen-bomb weapon. The French are not believed to have reached the latter stage in their nuclear development.

Airliners flying over the Sahara—mostly French and British—were warned to stay clear of a zone around Reg-gane, in central Algeria about 600 miles from the Mediterranean and the same distance from the Atlantic.

Planes flying over the rest of the French Sahara were advised to remain above 19,000 feet, avoid certain other areas and keep in radio contact with French authorities.

The announcement gave no time limit for the regulation, saying only that they would be in force "for the months to come."

New 'Angle' In Bombing

WESTPORT, Conn. (AP)—A new puzzling note Sunday night entered the tangled mystery of Julian Frank, who went to his death in an airliner crash that may have been caused by a suicide bomb.

The man who sold Frank a $500,000 insurance policy Nov. 1 said the 32-year-old lawyer declined an option to take out double indemnity.

"We discussed it briefly, and it was dropped," said Edward Boyd Jr., insurance man who was a friend and associate of Frank.

A double indemnity clause provides for payment of twice the face value of an insurance policy to the beneficiary in the event of accidental death.

Japan Leader a Veteran Of Big Political Storms

TOKYO (AP)—Premier Nobusuke Kishi will perform one of the most important acts of his political career Tuesday when he signs in Washington a new security treaty binding Japan and the United States.

He will stay in Washington until Thursday morning, when he flies to Ottawa for a Canadian visit.

He says the treaty "is not the final goal of my administration—it is only the beginning."

Beginning or end, his fight for the treaty reveals something of the man. Since assuming the premiership in February, 1957, he has weathered storm after storm.

DEFIED TOJO

Supporters say his tenacity is reminiscent of his courage in defying wartime premier Hideki Tojo's orders to resign because of a difference in views. Kishi, then munitions minister, thought Japan should surrender after the fall of Saipan.

Kishi was born in 1896 and graduated from Tokyo University in law in 1920 at the top of his class. By 1941 he had a cabinet post, the commerce and industry portfolio in Tojo's government.

For his wartime activities Kishi was jailed three years—but never tried—as a war-crimes suspect. When released he got a job from Aichihiro Fujiyama, now foreign minister, who is with Kishi in Washington.

Since becoming premier in 1956, Kishi's main foreign policy theme has been the need for friendship with the U.S.

He requested that the existing U.S.-Japan security treaty be drastically revised when he visited Washington in June, 1957. While it was under negotiation he fought off attack after attack against the American alliance, both from elements within his own party and from leftists who want Japan neutralized.

The result is a new pact of

W. ALLEN TAYLOR

Mystery Man In Death Swap?

MIAMI (UPI)—Who was the mystery man who boarded the ill-fated DC-7B airliner that crashed in the Gulf of Mexico Nov. 16 killing all 42 persons on board?

Mrs. Alice Steel Taylor of Tampa, Fla., insists it was her missing salesman husband, William Allen Taylor, 58.

Mrs. Robert V. Spears, the young Dallas, Tex., wife of a missing ex-convict doctor who booked passage on the flight, claims that if her husband were alive "he would be here with me and the babies."

Did Dr. Robert Spears, 64, whose criminal record dates back 43 years, trick Taylor into taking his place in an attempt to defraud an insurance company out of $100,000?

BIG POLICY

The FBI told a civil aeronautics board hearing on the crash that the chief investigator of the Los Angeles County district attorney's office theorized that "Spears might have had someone travel for him to collect a large insurance policy for the benefit of his young wife."

Spears' Dallas attorney, Charles W. Tessmer, said Spears "took out a $50,000 to $100,000 'common carrier' policy last September which was good for all commercial airline flights."

Where Is the Money Going?

REVIEWING CANADA'S MANY sided defence problems in Maclean's Magazine, Mr. Blair Fraser quotes a senior man at national defence headquarters as follows: "We could scrap at least half of our ships, cut the navy down from twenty to ten thousand men and it would make no difference to the safety of Canada or of NATO. But what would happen to the port of Halifax?"

Whether this is the opinion of the Government we are not told but the statement quoted by Mr. Fraser means only one thing. It means in the senior official's view that some aspects of our defence program at least are being maintained not for defence but solely for economic purposes. The taxpayer's money is being spent, in part anyway, to provide jobs in the Maritimes and, no doubt, elsewhere.

If these are indeed the Government's calculations they make no sense militarily or economically. To say that we must maintain useless defence expenditures to provide employment is to admit the very charge so often leveled against the democracies by Mr. Khrushchev.

The charge is quite false in simple economics, however true it may be in the practical politics of some Governments. For if the Maritimes, for example, require and deserve some special stimulant from Ottawa, because they are not sharing in the nation's general prosperity, then the money can be far more usefully spent through civilian than through military channels. Some public works will create just as many jobs as a defence expenditure and will remain permanently valuable.

There can be only one criterion for any defence expenditure: Does it in fact strengthen our defence? Is it needed for the nation's safety? If not, it should be discarded in favor of a useful defence project, a civilian expenditure or a reduction in total spending.

But all the news coming out of Ottawa lately—the dispute about the Bomarc missile, the Government's hesitation in building a costly new plane for the overseas air force, the question of American control over atomic weapons stored in Canada—shows that the Government has never reached, or at any rate has never announced a clear defence policy. All we have are Mr. Pearson's general assurances, Mr. Fleming's financial anguish and the opinions of many eminent military men that our money is being largely wasted.

Certainly the Government cannot be criticized for that rapid change in techniques which makes many weapons obsolete almost before they are produced. But it can be blamed for its lack of candor with the people.

If, despite the outward appearance of complete muddle, the Government has actually framed a defence policy it should be explained fully to the public right away. And, if so, why does the Government continue to refuse a full, non-partisan investigation by a committee of Parliament? If there is nothing to hide (apart from certain technical secrets)—why does the Government try to hide it?

In the doubt thus created it is no wonder that the public is baffled to hear from a high official that money voted by Parliament for defence is being used, in the least profitable fashion, for other purposes.

The Threat Persists

WIDE PUBLIC PROTEST HAS scotched the proposal to sell 76 acres of Thetis Lake Park to the B.C. Electric. But the waterworks committee is still considering a company offer to pay $5,200 for an easement through a 26 acre strip of the park land for the purpose of installing a power transmission line.

Why should the park be invaded by a power line? Is this precious wild-life sanctuary merely a convenience for any commercial proposal that is offered? Is every other route so impossible that the only recourse is to scrape a part of the park bare and run a line of transmission towers down it?

There seems to be a conviction among some council members that it is quite all right to log, sell or denude one part of Thetis Lake Park so long as you use the money to "improve" some other part. This is Alice-in-Wonderland logic. It seems to be another firmly held belief that corners don't count, that they can be wisely "lopped off" without detriment to the park itself. A glance at the map shows that the park area is irregular in shape, with many angular projections. Slice off enough of them and there will be no park left.

The Thetis Lake property is a very tiny part of the whole district. It is internationally known as providing an almost unique example of undisturbed natural growth; it is also a valuable wild-life sanctuary in a part of the country which is bound to develop rapidly as the population increases. It will be an invaluable public recreation asset as the years go by.

Surely it should be kept inviolate against encroachment, interference and despoliation. Surely it should be given a legal status which would protect it permanently from these recurring threats.

Orderly Growth With a Handsaw

A FEW DAYS AGO PRIME Minister Diefenbaker received a letter from the wheat-growing industry of western Canada urging that restrictions on imports from Japan be removed in order to encourage Japanese purchases of Canadian grain.

Mr. Diefenbaker's reply to this recommendation does little to meet the point at issue. He refers to Japan's "voluntary" quotas on textile and other exports to Canada, neglecting to add that Japan established such curbs as the result of "or else" suggestions from Ottawa.

For reasons of his own Mr. Diefenbaker sloughs off the farmers' request, and shows no indication of taking their advice. He makes the argument that he doesn't want to decrease Canadian industry by subjecting it to "excessive sales" and "disruptive effects" of Japanese imports.

But there will also be disruptive effects from not being able to sell Canadian wheat abroad when potential customers cannot get Canadian currency or credits with which to pay for their purchases. Mr. Diefenbaker does not mention this. He sees "orderly growth" of imports under his close scrutiny and that of eastern manufacturers—as the best policy. The cartoon on this page today gives a searching look at how this policy may operate.

Lunatic Aircraft Bombings

THREE TIMES IN RECENT years the nation has been horrified by "insurance bombings" of aircraft, with a tragic loss of life.

How is the public to be protected from madmen like Guay of Quebec, Graham of Colorado and Frank of Connecticut? Who else but a lunatic would cause a bomb to be placed in an aircraft, with no thought for the innocent victims of their depredations?

Painstaking examination of each piece of luggage would doubtless

Why the Veil On Welfare?

REEVE GEORGE CHATTERTON says Saanich was misled by the Provincial Government on its share of the cost of welfare.

"We got a raw deal," he charges. The protest seems justified when he explains that provincial estimates suggested that Saanich costs last year would be $40,000 and they turned out to be $90,000.

Quite properly the reeve sent his welfare officer to the Parliament Buildings to find out why this discrepancy occurred. The welfare officer was informed that figures were not available to explain the difference.

This isn't good enough. Why aren't the figures available? Are municipalities being asked to buy a pig in a poke on welfare costs? Is the reeve justified in thinking that his municipality—perhaps with others—is being victimized by the Provincial Government?

He asks "If everything was above-board, why wouldn't they give us the information?"

Unless the figures are supplied, others will join the reeve in his misgivings.

"We welcome the orderly growth of Japanese sales to Canada."

THE HEADLINE MAKER

By B. A. TOBIN

A Master of the Art

TO many people Nikita Khrushchev is outstanding as a trouble-maker and disturber of the world's peace. To others he is an ambitious and ruthless politician, determined to stay at the top of the heap in his country at any cost. Millions of Russians no doubt regard him as a wise and courageous national leader who has brought them prosperity and prestige. History may recast him as the leader of nearly 300 million people during a critical period when they swept rapidly from Stalinistic political servitude to the front rank of world powers. But somewhere in the book he's going to be remembered as one of the slickest advertising and sales promoters the world has ever known.

The huckster's paradise of Madison Avenue must drool collectively at some of Mr. Khrushchev's publicity coups. Admittedly he has a preferred position in getting public notice, but no one can deny that he parlays this capital with masterful skill into a tremendous asset.

Another Profession

In gimmicks, timing and impact the boss of the Kremlin has the touch of genius. If destiny had not cast him in the role of national leader, surely by now he would have made his way to New York and have amassed millions. Take, for instance, the carrot-and-stick technique which Mr. Khrushchev has made into a fine art. For weeks and months he will berate the West, deriding it, threatening it, scoffing at it. He becomes thoroughly hated and feared.

Then, like a ray of sunlight through heavy clouds, he projects a smile or a friendly remark in the direction of his opponents. Immediately the opposing camp is thrown into confusion.

Conditioned to dislike and distrust, many people in the West cannot understand the switch; others grasp eagerly at the olive branch, hoping that this time some progress can be made.

Regardless of the individual's reaction, the Russian's words are top-line news in the newspapers and in private conversations for days. He's achieved what every publicity man dreams of—almost saturation coverage.

Or consider some of the master's minor techniques. I've never been able to learn whether the colorful phrases he constantly uses are his through natural heritage of the Russian language, or whether he personally constructs them to point up his remarks.

In any case he's always sure to get attention with observations such as: you won't see such-and-such happen "until shrimps whistle." Or perhaps he warns, as he did in Los Angeles, "don't rub me in your sauce."

That sort of thing could quickly get you to the top of the advertising copy writers' profession.

But timing is Mr. Khrushchev's forte. One of his greatest successes was the launching of the moon rocket just as he was to arrive in Washington to visit the American people.

A container carrying instruments and Russian pennants splashed onto the surface of the moon last September 14, the first object ever to be hurled from earth to the lunar satellite. On September 15 Mr. Khrushchev presented a replica of the object, complete with Soviet pennants, to Mr. Eisenhower.

The world was still shaken by the implications of the Soviet feat. From a scientific standpoint, the Russian landed in the United States as a leader among envious followers. For the time being he had wrapped up game, set and match.

His recent feat is even more adroit. From the eminence of recognized Soviet achievements in space rocketry Mr. Khrushchev has reached a little higher.

There is a summit meeting coming up soon, at which international prestige will play an important part. There is a disarmament conference now being arranged for Geneva by ten nations commissioned by the UN to find agreement on this vital question. There is a possibly restive Communist ally in China which needs to be reminded of certain facts. There are a number of neutral nations which might usefully be impressed with Russian might at this time. There is dissension among the West's NATO group regarding defences. There is controversy in the United States over the lag in armament progress, and concern in other countries over the cost of armaments and the rapidity with which they become obsolete.

Shock Tactics

Into this confused murmuring Mr. Khrushchev tosses a double-ended firecracker. We're cutting our army by more than a million men, he announces. And in the same breath he gets off the other bang: We have huge arrays of rockets and missiles, and we're about to bring out an entirely new weapon which can only be described as incredible and fantastic.

That's a publicity home-run if ever there was one.

Mr. K. was far too clever to tell us what the weapon is. Three times he has startled the world with scientific feats: the first Sputnik, the first moon-hit, and the first pictures from the other side of the moon.

We are prepared to believe almost anything now, so he has left it up to our imaginations—for the time being—to tell us what the new surprise is.

It may be less than we think, it may be even more. But every newspaper in the world must have carried a story on it, and that rates just about 100 per cent in publicity circles. Even Madison Avenue recognizes 100 per cent as practically perfect.

Mr. Nixon and the Democrats

IN a year in which any political event can be twisted into a laurel wreath or a cabbage to throw at a presidential candidate, Mr. Nixon's settlement of the steel strike is a halo fashioned only by himself.

It is true that when President Eisenhower went off on his last grand tour, he gave the Vice-President full discretion to look into the steel dispute and challenged him to solve it. But it was at best an invidious honor, since for six months and more the best brains of the union and the industry, the government's mediation board, a famous labor arbitrator, the Secretary of Labor and the President himself, had tried and failed to hit on a settlement.

Mr. Nixon went at it with ferocious zeal, for if he failed he would be one of many baffled giants; if he succeeded he would be Hercules.

Not even his most impenitent political enemies can deny him today a personal victory that may well presage the most prosperous year in American history.

Not Forgotten

It is something the voters will not forget, or be allowed to forget, until the dust of the presidential campaign settles in November and we find—as the Republican leaders hereabouts are crowing—Mr. Nixon in the White House.

Certainly it is a brilliant beginning for the Republican campaign and already dims the zip and sparkle with which Senator John Kennedy and Senator Hubert Humphrey got off the starting line the other day. It leaves the Democratic leaders, in a dozen key states, thrashing around for a strategy which might resurrect the buried character known as Tricky Dick.

Desperately one Democratic ideaman came up with a slogan which he insisted might work as well to defeat Nixon as the "He can't win" stigma did to defeat the late Senator Taft.

It is the mocking cry, "He can't lose," offered to the people as a bitter commentary on their presumed spinelessness, a goad meant to prod them into retaliation that the American voter is a man and not a mouse. It is wily psychological bait, perhaps too wily; as of this writing the Democratic professionals take a dim view of it.

But before they hatch the plot to beat Nixon, the Democrats have to breed the right conspirator. Both the two men who officially declared themselves as candidates in the past week have improved their claims.

Liberal Torch

Senator Humphrey, of Minnesota, whom the party professionals confidentially regard as a runner holding the liberal torch until such time as Stevenson cares to come and grab it, gave a dazzling press conference which drew into print more admiration, for his eloquence and grasp of issues, than is usually allowed to appear in serious American political reporting. Senator Kennedy, however, is indisputably the front-runner and, saving some political catastrophe, will remain so up to the convention at Los Angeles in July.

In his statement last week, he gave out two warnings. The first deepened the frustration of Democratic leaders in industrial states with large Roman Catholic populations. The second is taken as a direct snub to Senators Symington and Johnson and an oblique slap at Adlai Stevenson.

The Senator said that "under no conditions" would he accept the vice-presidency. He sharpened the point of this refusal by saying, in a television interview, that he thought very poorly of people who would draft a Catholic as Vice-President in order to hold the allegiance of Catholic voters. He would "not engage in such an operation" and thought "the Democratic party will not deserve to be successful" if it tries it.

Religious Grounds

In other words, he is making it harder than ever for the political leaders of the very states that defected to Eisenhower to come out against Kennedy on any but religious grounds. Since no one dare do this who has a large Catholic constituency, we shall no doubt see some Machiavellian tactics develop during the early ballots at Los Angeles, if not before.

The second warning was given to candidates who are anxious to receive the nomination but will not take on the tiring chores of running in New Hampshire, Wisconsin, and Oregon. Such men, he said (and he named Senators Lyndon Johnson and Stuart Symington) do not deserve to be taken seriously by the convention.

But there is little doubt that Stevenson loomed at the back of his mind as an almost more offensive figure.

In New York recently, Senator Kennedy took Mr. Stevenson aside and privately asked him if he meant to run. Mr. Stevenson said he would not lift a finger to get the nomination. Suppose, said the Senator, that the front-runners deadlocked or began to slump on the early ballots, and Stevenson's name was then put up.

Embarrassed Noises

Would he accept the nomination? Mr. Stevenson made embarrassed noises that conveyed his willingness to be drafted.

Thereupon, Senator Kennedy blew up. He reminded Stevenson that for eight years many loyal possible candidates, Kennedy included, had run themselves ragged for a man who had twice lost.

Now, at least two of these loyalists—Kennedy and Humphrey—were going to run themselves ragged in their own behalf. They would not take kindly to the prospect of staggering into the convention and holding the ball long enough to drop it, in exhaustion, into the hands of Stevenson.

Mr. Stevenson has been privately advised to come out for Kennedy now so that in such a crisis he could expect to inherit the fainting Kennedy delegations.

He will not do so. He looks on all such legitimate, even essential, tactics as "pandering." The professional retort to this is that he who will not risk the name of pander may never expect the title of president.

In brief, Senator Kennedy's warnings increase the chances of another Catholic, most likely Governor Brown of California, as the vice-presidential nominee if Kennedy fails to swing the convention behind his presidency; and make less likely the choice of Stevenson as the saviour of an exhausted and divided party.

As Our Readers See It

Recognizing Red China

Twice recently over the CBU radio I have listened to the same interview with Mrs. Cyrus Eaton in Toronto. She exhorts the women of Canada to put pressure on their menfolk and influence public opinion on this continent to force the recognition of Red China.

On both occasions I felt strongly that the speaker was not unbiased. I wondered what she was trying to do to Canada. I wished that both Mrs. Eaton and her interrogator could have read Bruce Hutchison in the Victoria Daily Times for Dec. 23, 1959. Quote: "The recognition of Peking is impractical today for other reasons besides the calculation of power. What moral right has Canada (if it had the power) to surrender these people (of Formosa) to certain slavery and their leaders to butchery after they have been given for ten years the guarantee of the United States as leader of the free world, and Canada's recognition in the United Nations? Surely they have the right to self-determination even if the mainland people have not, at present."

It seems to me that Mrs. Eaton's talk was both irresponsible and dangerous, and may have misled many who did not read Bruce Hutchison's articles.

A LISTENER.

Unpardonable Attitude

I was glad to see your strong editorial protest of the absolutely unpardonable attitude of Premier Bennett in the matter of the European refugee families being admitted to Canada by the federal Government.

From a previous report, I understand that apart from the specious excuses mentioned in your article, Mr. Bennett has pointed out that B.C. was in no position to provide treatment for tubercular patients because the sanatorium at Tranquille had been turned into a mental hospital. There are, however, at least two ways of getting round the difficulty. Firstly, another report in the Victoria Times mentioned that TB patients were now being successfully treated at home with drugs and not sent to sanatoriums at all. Secondly, instead of the federal Government maintaining the families until they become self-supporting and the provincial Government supplying the treatment, this formula could be reversed.

The incidence of TB in our native population has decreased to such a point that it is certain that the federal Government could make beds available to our pitifully small quota of eight to ten patients in one of the three Indian hospitals in this province. The one at Nanaimo might be particularly suitable, as it is in quite a large and growing town where work might be found for the healthy members of the families. The provincial Government could then undertake to maintain the families until they become self-supporting, on the scale applied by the federal Government in the other provinces.

There is no doubt that if Mr. Bennett brought the slightest goodwill or imagination to the problem, it would be very easy of solution.

Obscurantism

"Field-Marshal Viscount Montgomery... will visit Peking in May..." "The true government of China is in Peking—that which governs 600,000,000 Chinese." (Victoria Daily Times, Jan. 9, 1960.)

In ability, in character and in sagacity, Marshal Montgomery stands head and shoulders above his contemporaries.

It is providential, indeed, that in the interests of humanity, he has assumed the thankless task of diplomacy in an imperilled era. May his wisdom prevail be the prayer of all reasonable men.

It goes without saying, that the Eisenhower (when will newspaper writers cease kowtowing to an Americanism: Ike-Ike-Ike, ad infinitum, ad nauseam) administration will disparage the distinguished Montgomery's projected visit to China.

The enlightened attitude of Marshal Montgomery stands in vivid contradiction to the obscurantism revealed in recent reporting, of which Mr. Bruce Hutchison's is the most remarkable.

Taiwan is comparable in area to Vancouver Island. It has a population of 10,000,000. Chinese, which with a natural increase is an illogical and explosive situation. The Chiang Kai-shek regime, bolstered by United States credits, supports an army of 600,000.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, Mr. Hutchison informs his readers that the political and economic status of the country is highly satisfactory. The Chinese, he says, will ultimately return to the mainland, but are resolved to a man, to return only as conquerors. Just how he penetrated the minds of those 10,000,000 Chinese inhabitants of Taiwan, he does not inform his readers.

However, the most astonishing note in Mr. Hutchison's report is his counsel to Canada to have no dealings with Red China, thereby presuming, apparently, the role of mentor to 15,000,000 Canadians.

Mr. Hutchison's conclusions are not likely to advance international concord in an imperilled world.

Amused Spectators

LAST night, when I felt I couldn't stomach another word about nuclear weapons and bursting populations, I picked up my fat, brown copy of The Complete Novels of Jane Austen.

I meant to read Chapter 2 of Sense and Sensibility because I think it's so clever and so wickedly amusing. But I was sidetracked by J. C. Squire's Introduction to that particular edition.

It mentions, of course, that Jane Austen was the spinster daughter of a country clergyman, and wrote her books in the common drawing-room, with the family walking in and out.

J. C. Squire is astonished that people are amazed that Jane Austen found her inspiration in such to them—humdrum surroundings, and that the only audience she really wanted was her entirely ordinary relatives. He maintains that such people have quite mistaken ideas about country life and the lesser gentry.

Education and intelligence, he says, are by no means confined to certain narrow metropolitan circles, the aristocracy, and the so-called intelligentsia. Wide reading, wit, wisdom and shrewdness about life and character are often found among women like Jane Austen who, in a sense, is ageless.

Someone not unlike her was known to the Paston family when the Wars of the Roses were being fought.

The Jane Austen species has multiplied with time, he says, and you may find many Janes today wherever there is a group of lesser gentry. They observe their surroundings with the same old causticity and amusement where pretentious stupidity is to be seen, and with the same old tolerance for pure, simple and kindly natures.

This had never really struck me before, but I think it's true. And I think if we were to look around, we'd see Jane Austens in Victoria. They're not writing professionally. But they do write long letters to their friends and relatives. Their letters are amusing, though they only chronicle the little doings of every day. But they're written with charm and humor.

We meet Jane Austens sometimes when we go out socially. If they're in good form, they're most amusing about such domestic doings as welcoming a load of manure for the garden, going to a meeting at PTA, taking part in the drive for funds for the Cathedral or the College, attending a political meeting, helping clean up rubbish at the Thetis Park Nature Sanctuary.

They're too intelligent to vote Social Credit, but they are at their amusing best when they are commenting on the peculiar antics of our smiling Premier and his curious colleagues.

To quote J. C. Squire, "the type is usually diffident, not quite confident enough about its own strength, inclined to be abashed in the presence of fame, however meretricious, and authority, however undeserved; prone to think that its unerring judgment in matters of moral and aesthetic taste is really uncertain, amateurish and subject to professional correction."

I can think of plenty of women like this. I like them. They have little use for artificiality, pretentiousness or bombast. Their caustic humor bursts the bubble of conceit. But they are infinitely kind to the old and feeble. And, in a world that seems increasingly mad, they stand out as being refreshingly, amusingly sane.

SMEAR OUTBREAK FADING

London Marchers Protest Nazism

LONDON (AP) — Thousands of Britons who fought Nazism, and Italians who lived under Fascism demonstrated Sunday against anti-semitism.

80 Foresters Initiated At City Rite

Eighty new members of the Independent Order of Foresters were initiated by the high court of British Columbia at a ceremony in the Club Stocco, Saturday night.

The Supreme Chief Ranger and international president of the order, Lou Probst, of Toronto, presided. Accompanied by Mrs. Probst, he is on a tour of Canada attending initiations in many cities.

Mr. Probst revealed that the IOF now has a total membership of 400,000 in Britain, Canada and the United States and total assets amounting to $75,000,000.

"I am delighted to find that the movement is growing in strength and importance in this part of the world," Mr. Probst said.

Contributing to a concert program which followed the initiation were William Ritchie, James Troy and Mrs. Joyce Hunt.

The month-long wave of swastika smearings that began in West Germany and spread around the world seemed fading—as many Jewish leaders predicted it would. Only a few scattered incidents directed at Jews were reported during the weekend—most of them in the United States.

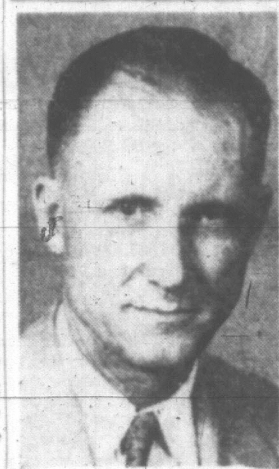

Waving banners reading "We protest against Nazism" and "The blood of millions cries out," thousands marched through London's half-deserted streets Sunday. The long column paraded silently to the West German Embassy, where a delegation delivered a letter describing the manifestation as a reflection of British public opinion "which holds anti-Semitism in abhorrence."

CRACKDOWN PROMISED

They got a sympathetic reception from the charge d'affaires, Dr. Joachim Ritter, who promised that the Bonn government would crack down on hate-mongers "until this evil is eradicated."

Rallies against anti-Semitism, with youth movements of various political parties taking part, also were held in several Italian cities. The biggest were in Turin and Florence, where hundreds paid tribute at memorials honoring the victims of Fascism and Nazism.

GEORGE H. MICKEY ... still in jail

Has Mr. X Got Alibi For Murder?

BATON ROUGE, La., (UPI) — Dean George H. Mickey's attorney declined comment today on a report that the educator's family had located the "Mr. X" who could back up his alibi in the murder of attractive Margaret Rosamond McMillan.

"I'm not going to comment one way or the other on something like that," said attorney Robert L. Kleinpeter.

The report that the man had been located in Dallas was said to have circulated among friends of the Mickey family. Mickey, 49, an internationally known scientist and dean of the Louisiana State University graduate school, is in East Baton Rouge parish jail charged with murder.

Manslaughter Verdict

SASKATOON (CP) — A 12-man jury Saturday night found Robert Yund, 30, guilty of manslaughter, a reduced charge, in the Oct. 13 shooting of his estranged wife. Yund had been charged with murder. Sentence will be passed Jan. 25.

U.S. Fears Loss Of Fishing Rights

SEATTLE (AP) — U.S. state department and navy officials warned the Puget Sound salmon industry Saturday it may lose traditional fishing grounds off the Canadian coast this spring.

William Herrington, special assistant to the undersecretary of state, said the U.S. may have to compromise on other fishing grounds to keep other nations of the world from abandoning the traditional three-mile territorial waters limit at a Law of the Seas conference in Geneva March 17.

He indicated the compromise might be six miles, a figure a forecast by Howard Green, Canada's external affairs minister.

Canada has been one of the staunchest advocates of a proposal to increase the territorial waters limit to 12 miles, a move which would seal American fishermen off from rich waters off British Columbia.

Most lucrative fishing grounds for U.S. fishermen are now just outside the three-mile limit off Canada.

Herrington said the United States' first objective at Geneva would be to bring a favorable vote on a global territorial limit of six miles or less.

He said the American delegation will fight for historic fishing rights, but must be willing to compromise in order to defeat the 12-mile limit proposal, which the navy claimed would practically nullify U.S. seapower around the world.

Capt. L. R. Hardy of the office of the chief of naval operation explained a 12-mile limit would block many narrow seas and passages and prevent the United States fleets from patrolling potential trouble spots.

Train miles run in both freight and passenger service in Canada in 1958 totalled 109,201,000, an eight-per-cent decline from 1957.

QUEEN WAITS IN LONDON

LONDON (Reuters) — The Queen returned to London today from her Sandringham country home in readiness for the birth of her third child.

The 33-year-old sovereign appeared in excellent health as she boarded the train at Wolferton, Norfolk, for the 150-mile trip to London. Her baby is expected within two weeks.

Prince Charles, the 11-year-old heir to the Throne, travelled to Buckingham Palace with his mother in preparation for returning to his boarding school tonight.

Time to go away—and stay away for as long as we feel like it. That's what retirement holds out for most of us.

The big question, of course, is—Will you have the means? In other words, if you keep up your present rate of saving, will you have financial independence on retirement?

If the answer is "no," you might look into the excellent Retirement Savings Plans provided by Canadian Government Annuities.

For example:

Supposing you are a man of 28 and wish to secure an Annuity of $100 per month, commencing at 65 and continuing as long as you live. Your monthly premium would be only $14.90.

And your premiums are deductible for income tax purposes within certain limits.

This is only one example of a government annuity. You can purchase plans that start at 50, 60 and 65. What's more there is no medical examination... and the annuity can't lapse...

Lindsay Set to Act If Judges 'Go Easy'

B.C. motor vehicles department will crack down on licence suspensions whether or not they are ordered by local magistrates, a spokesman said.

He criticized the practice of granting permission to drive for business purposes only. "If a man gets a guarantee of a driving licence because he needs it to earn a living, it will wreck the principle that everyone has to drive carefully or lose his licence," Mr. Lindsay said.

Mr. Lindsay also criticized a growing Vancouver practice of doubling the fines for impaired driving where no licence suspensions are recommended.

His department takes the view that the rich man can save his driving rights where the poor man cannot.

Magistrates recommend licence suspensions, but the motor vehicle branch superintendent actually does the suspending.

RUSSIA JOINS IN PLAN TO TRACK SATELLITES

NICE, France (UPI)—The Soviet Union agreed in principle Saturday to join the United States and other countries in "Operation Space Warn," an international system for tracking man-made space vehicles.

Part of the plan calls for simplified and unified techniques and code words which will make it easier for any nation to track an object launched by any other nation.

Western sources said it should do away with delays in the release of vital information after Soviet space launchings. Such delays have made it difficult for Western tracking stations to glean all the information they would have liked to from the Soviet Sputniks and Luniks.

Forest Firm Profits 'Justify Wage Boost'

VANCOUVER (CP)—Joe Morris, IWA regional president, said Saturday profits shown by MacMillan & Bloedel Ltd. during 1959 prove that labor is not pricing the industry out of markets.

He said general profits in the forest industry more than justify the wage demands his union made before entering a 10-week strike last June.

Mr. Morris referred to MacMillan & Bloedel's statement this week showing profits of $13,000,000 for 1959.

"That was a profit increase of better than 60 per cent," he said, "and it doesn't bear out the tales of hardship told by the forest industry before the conciliation board and right through wage negotiations."

"We have (M. & B. head) J. V. Clynne's word for it that market prospects are excellent. Labor is not pricing itself out of the market."

Fierce Snowstorm Sweeps Eastward

CHICAGO (AP)—A blustery snowstorm today swept into the Midwest states and the Great Lakes area from the west, leaving a heavy blanket of snow across areas from the eastern Colorado plains to the Mississippi Valley.

The storm, which dumped up to a foot in parts of Colorado, curtailed travel, blocked roads and closed many schools. The weather bureau posted warnings of hazardous driving conditions in the snow belt.

REDS PROPOSE WORLD PROJECTS

'Scrap Arms, Get Utopia'

MOSCOW (Reuters)—The Soviet labor union newspaper Trud said Sunday the following projects would be possible if all countries scrapped their military hardware in favor of "peaceful construction":

1. A 15-foot-wide rail line running from New York across Alaska's Behring Straits — by bridge or tunnel — and on to Moscow. The line, travelled by 180-mile-an-hour trains, would continue on into London via a cross-channel tunnel.
2. Dams at Gibraltar and the Dardanelles to reduce the level of the Mediterranean and thus create new farmland.

3. Irrigation of arid lands with icebergs from the Antarctic.
4. Changing of the direction of the Gulf Stream.
5. The use of tides to generate electricity.
6. A Gibraltar tunnel linking North Africa and Spain.
7. Creation of a sea in the dry and dusty north Sahara.

The article was prompted by Premier Khrushchev's announcement of big Soviet armed forces cuts this week. Trud said the ideas were supplied by scientists and the magazine Technique for Youth which will publish fuller details over the next few months.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — "I didn't study acting to end up singing songs on a horse," Robert Horton said.

The handsome and rugged but sensitive-minded young bachelor is not expecting to die in the saddle on the "Wagon Train" TV show. Like most western stars, he wants to "Go east, young man" to the Broadway stage, and then back to England where he is actually more famous than in America.

"I'm so popular in England," Horton said at lunch recently. And he is not the bragging type. We had been browsing for 15 minutes through the elaborate menus of the Four Seasons. "If I were anywhere else, I'd just like to order a chicken sandwich," he whispered to me, reminding me, too, that while studying acting he was a cook and a "host" in the California restaurant here.

"Wagon Train" has been the No. 1 show in England constantly for more than a year," Horton said. "Due to that, it's as easy to sell an hour spec there with my name on it as it would be here with Frank Sinatra's name on it."

When he did a show in London recently the mob outside the studio was so great that the bobbies had his limousine driven into the studio building to pick him up—so he wouldn't be torn apart.

"Everything was wonderful but the press. It was murder," he emphasized.

"One paper described how 'he lifted his well-manicured hand.' I've never had a manicure in my life!"

Regardless, he did act as host on a spec there — "the kind of a show which nobody would give me here" — and now he's to do the Perry Como show Jan. 20. Presumably, instead of singing on a horse, he'll sing on a stool.

JANE FONDA no star yet

"DON'T PRINT THAT!"
The recent divorce of a H'wood couple didn't surprise their intimates; they'd been estranged—though living in the same house—for ten years. The company insuring a B'way show against the absence of its star wants to cancel the policy—she's been out too often.

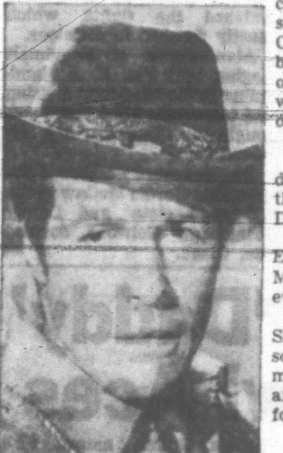

Jane Fonda, Henry's dtr., turned down Joshua Logan's offer of star billing in "There Was a Little Girl"—asserting that maybe in 25 years she might deserve such attention, but not now.

Pianist George Shearing'll use part of his Basin St. East loot to buy a H'wood home with a piano-shaped pool... Tom Poston's new romance is actress Lilliane Montevecchi... Friends now call Max Asnas, the delicatessen philanthropist, "Max Onassis"—Kathy Barr, who busted an elbow at rehearsals of "The Follies of 1910," will wear a cast on it through the opening.

SOLUTION WEDNESDAY

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy. Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes. The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and of the second question a Hammond's Atlas of the Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to John Providenti, age 11, of Charleston, W. Va., for his question:

Why were all the prehistoric animals so big?

We know a lot about the dinosaurs and other big prehistoric animals because we have found many of their fossilized bones. Some of these bones are a foot thick and several feet long. Many of them have been preserved for millions and millions of years. They have withstood the weather, the shifting soil and the changing face of the earth. In order to do this, a fossil must be sizeable and made of very durable material in the first place.

The bones and other remains of smaller animals tend to decay or break up into powdery dust. As a rule, only large animals with durable bones are good fossil making material. That is why we find so many of the big ones. But for each fossilized animal we find, there were thousands of more fragile animals who left no fossils.

The record of the early birds is a good example of how certain creatures do not make good fossils. Birds are light creatures with delicate bones. Even the earliest birds had to be light in order to glide through the air. All modern flying birds have hollow bones, as did many of the first birds. These fragile bones do not endure long in the ground which is why we have only a very few fossils of the earliest birds. These rare fossils were formed when a bird fell into some stagnant marsh where decay bacteria could not live. If the bones were then covered with soft mud, they could in time become fossils.

Insects are small animals which lived before, during and after the big dinosaurs, yet not many of them have survived as fossils. Their little bodies decayed, making the soil richer for future generations. But once in a while, a prehistoric dragonfly fell into a stagnant swamp. In time, the vegetation around it became coal and the gauzy outlines of the ancient insect were pressed into the black pages.

Resin Formed Rare Tombs

Once in a while, an ant or other small insect would become trapped in a gob of resin, oozing from an ancient conifer tree. As the resin hardened to form golden amber, the insect was trapped in a glassy tomb.

Petroleum is also a fossil of sorts. It is formed from the fatty remains of countless little sea dwellers, both plants and animals. Such living things have lived and died in the seas from earliest times. Limestone and certain other rocks are made from the shells of countless little sea dwellers.

They, too have inhabited the seas since the very beginning of life on earth.

So, it seems, the huge dinosaurs were not the only ones living in prehistoric times. They seem to have been so numerous only because we have found more of their bones. Almost from the beginning there have been both small and larger animals on earth and always, without a break, the little ones have been more numerous than the big ones.

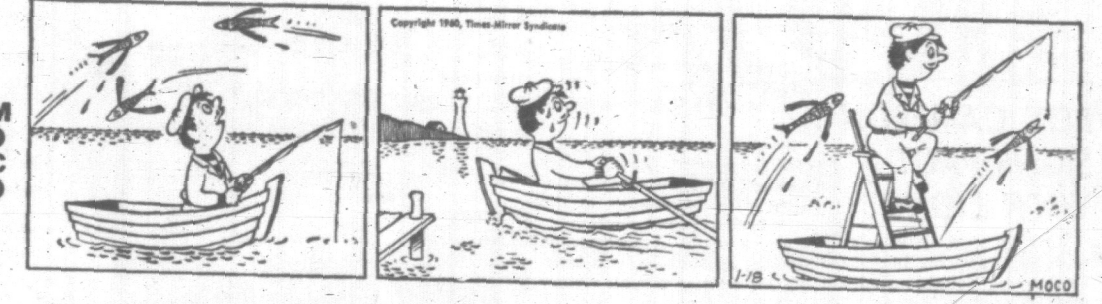

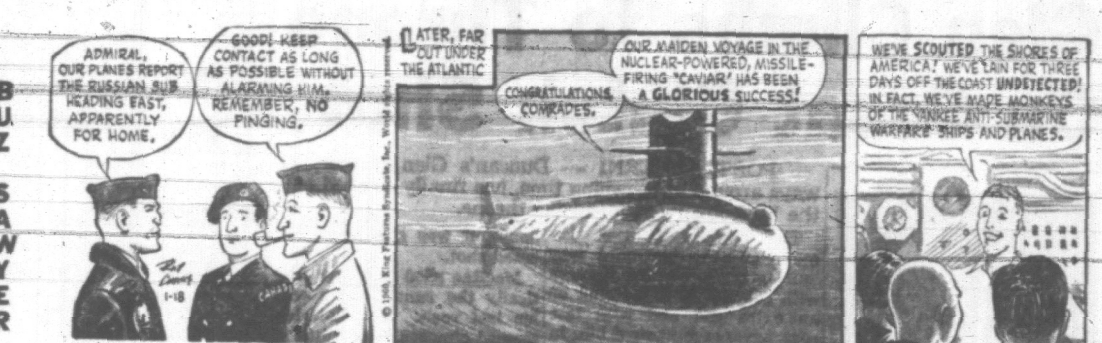

Andy sends a Hammond's International World Globe to David Thomas, age eight, of Winston-Salem, N.C., for his question:

Which planet has the longest year?

Each planet circles around the sun in an orbit. The planet's year is the time it takes to revolve once around its orbit. The earth's year is about 365 days, which is the time it takes to revolve once around its orbit. Mars is further from the sun than we are and it has to revolve around a bigger orbit. This takes longer. The Martian year is equal to about 687 earth days, or almost two earth years.

The planet with the biggest orbit is little Pluto. It is the planet, at the outside edge of the Solar System and it is about 3,670 million miles from the sun. Pluto takes 284 earth years to revolve around its orbit. Little Pluto is the planet with the longest year.

Glen Climbs to Throne On Great Clutch Shot

PORT ALBERNI — Duncan's Glen Harper, always around at crowning time, has finally climbed onto the Vancouver Island curling throne.

The popular Duncan ice maker did it the hard way Sunday night, coming through with a brilliant clutch shot on an extra end and with last rock advantage against him in a sudden-death playoff.

His dramatic shot before a packed gallery at the Alberni Valley Curling Club gave the smooth-functioning Duncan rink a 10-9 verdict over Nanaimo's Don MacRae and a free ride to the B.C. finals.

Accompanying Harper to the B.C. playdowns at Kelowna Feb. 8-14 will be third Harvey Hodge, second Freddie Duncan and lead Vern Gaspick.

LOST TO GUTOSKI

Hodge and Duncan were with Harper last year when he was beaten by Tony Gutoski's Victoria Club rink in the Island final and also in 1958 when the same city foursome beat the Duncan rink in a best-of-three provincial playoff.

Gutoski never made it to the Island finals this year, failing to survive the Victoria eliminations.

Sunday's sudden-death playoff here was forced after Harper and MacRae each finished with 4-1 records in the round-robin Island finals.

For a while, it seemed the Duncan aggregation was heading for an easy playoff victory to avenge their only loss, 8-7, in the playdowns. Harper's rink led 4-1 after four ends and 6-3 after seven ends.

MASTERFUL SHOT

But the wily MacRae refused to be counted out. He took two on the 10th end and then "stole" another two on the 11th. Harper had to make full use of last-rock advantage on the 12th to force the extra end.

Harper's game-winning shot was a masterful one. With MacRae counting three rocks in the eight-foot circle, Harper had to come through a narrow port, rub off the Nanaimo shot rock and roll into the four-foot circle. From back to house, it was a perfectly-executed shot.

MacRae tried to follow practically the same course with his last rock. His shot, too, seemed almost perfect until he got the rub off the original shot rock. The rub was too fine and MacRae's stone missed by about six inches.

MacRae was supported by third Herb Neff, second Art Quinney and lead Gerry Lindsay.

Weekend results:

FINAL STANDINGS

Earlier, Cameron, a six-foot 210-pound speedster who set a league record this year with Wenatchee Junior College in Washington State, said he had been offered $7,500 to sign with Los Angeles Chargers of the new American Football League.

Nanaimo Rink Earns Trip to Coast Playoff

DUNCAN — A Nanaimo rink skipped by 17-year-old Dave Alexander will carry the Vancouver Island banner in the Pacific Coast regional High School curling playoffs next weekend.

The Alexander rink earned its trip as well as claiming the Vancouver Island championship by making a clean sweep of Saturday's four-rink Island round-robin finals.

Nanaimo's champions scored a key victory in their first game, defeating Victoria High School's Les Brice, 9-7, and then had little trouble in knocking over rinks from Duncan and Port Alberni.

Alexander is backed by Albert Poy, 16; Bill Clift, 15, and Jim McMurtrie, 17.

The coast regional finals will be played at the Capilano Winter Club in Vancouver. Winners move into the B.C. championships at Kelowna on Jan. 30, for the chance to represent the province in the Dominion playdowns at Noranda, Que., Feb. 14-20.

Jumping John Good as Ever
BOSTON (AP) — Jump king John Thomas easily sailed over the high jump bar at seven feet one-half inch Saturday night at the 34th Knights of Columbus track meet, his first competitive effort in nine months.

The 18-year-old Boston University student narrowly missed on three tries at 7-2 1/2, the highest jump he ever attempted.

Thomas, who has not faced opposition since he hurt his foot in an elevator accident last March 27, cleared 7 1/2 on his first try. The height was only 3/4 of an inch less than his world mark.

"My timing has to be straightened out," Thomas shrugged when asked if he thought he could make 7-2 1/2.

Australia, winning with a day to spare, now lead the series 2-1, with one game drawn. India must win the fifth test, starting at Calcutta Jan. 23, to tie the series.

Flyers Slip at Seattle In Race to Catch Cats

Totem Victory Marked By Near Riot

Edmonton Flyers, who started a Western Hockey League road trip in riotous fashion at Seattle Sunday night, will still be trailing the third-place Victoria Cougars when they move into Memorial Arena against the Cats Wednesday night.

Flyers, remaining three points behind the Cougars when they dropped a 4-3 overtime decision to the Totems, will have a chance to trim the deficit to a single point before Wednesday's clash, when they tackle the pace-setting Canucks at Vancouver Tuesday.

Cougars consolidated their position at Spokane Saturday night, scoring three spectacular goals in the first six minutes of the second period and going on to clobber the Comets 5-1.

ROLLINS STARS

In Saturday's other game, Winnipeg Warriors got spectacular goaltending from Al Rollins and defeated Calgary Stampede 4-2 before 3,400 Calgary fans.

The Seattle-Edmonton game, won by Pat Ginnell's goal, broke into a near riot when a woman fan was cut by the stick of Flyers' Chuck Holmes.

The injured Seattle fan, Mary Lou Alexander, 25, apparently leaned over and grabbed Holmes' stick during second-period play. As Holmes pulled free the woman was struck on the head and had to go to hospital for treatment.

As the fans howled a policeman who witnessed the incident said he would arrest Holmes on an assault charge. Edmonton coach Bud Poile reported that he'd have to arrest the whole team.

10 MINUTES LATE

A police sergeant smoothed things over but Flyers spent an extra 10 minutes in the dressing room between periods. Holmes did not play the rest of the game.

Jim Powers, Don Chupka and Bill MacFarland scored the rest for Seattle. Defenceman Pele Goggin got a pair for Edmonton and Roger DeJordy added the third.

PELLETIER HURT

Gordie Haworth, with two, and singletons by Art Jones, Arnie Schmaltz and defenceman Ron Matthews accounted for the Cougars' scoring at Spokane. Al Johnson, all-star right winger, scored the only Spokane goal in the second period.

The first period was scoreless with Cougars taking a 4-1 margin in the middle session and adding the only goal of the final stanza.

Both teams played it wide open in the first with Victoria's Marcel Pelletier forced to stop 13 shots and Spokane's Emile Francis 14.

In the first period Pelletier was hit on the head by a loose puck and the game was held up 10 minutes to allow him time for repairs.

Haworth opened the second period Victoria onslaught at 1:54.

The Winnipeg win still leaves an 11-point gap to be filled for the fourth and final playoff spot. Warriors played without star forward Ray Brunel and Calgary lacked Sid Finney. Both were out with injuries.

Al Nicholson, Ted Green, Dick Lamoureux and Paul Masnick tallied for Warriors. Lou Jankowski fired both for Calgary.

Canadian Wins U.S. Ski Title

PETTIT HITS MILESTONE; LAKERS LAND IN CORN

ST. LOUIS — Bob Pettit reached the 10,000 point career milestone Sunday in his sixth season, faster than any other player in National Basketball Association history.

Pettit's 34 points paced St. Louis Hawks in a 135-119 romp over the Minneapolis Lakers at St. Louis.

Pettit brought his total to 10,001 for 5 1/2 seasons.

Monday morning a DC-3 carrying the Lakers made a forced landing in an Iowa corn field during a snowstorm.

None of the persons on the plane were injured and the plane was not damaged.

Lakers' Elgin Baylor said it was a "miracle" that the plane got down. "The pilots deserve all the credit," he said.

LOSE TO DUTCHIES

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP) — Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen suffered an early attack of stage fright Sunday, then hit their stride and ran away with an 8-4 victory over Moscow Selects, a club rated inferior to the Russian team they'll meet in the winter Olympics next month.

The Dutchies, reinforced by some outside help, punched in three quick goals late in the second period to overcome a 4-2 deficit and took firm command for the rest of the game.

Until then it appeared to the 6,700 fans jammed into the Memorial Auditorium that the youthful tourists would make a dark debut for the Dutchmen in their new Olympic jerseys.

The Russians turned the heat on from the start. Fast skaters and smooth passers, they roamed about the K-W end and had a goal before the game was 2 1/2 minutes old.

They also showed a willingness to bodycheck in the Canadian pattern and forechecked doggedly, but wilted when the Dutchmen got their attack organized.

Don Roper scored two Kitchener goals. Ken Laufman, Murray Davison, Cliff Pennington, Butch Martin, Bob Forhan and Gary Sharpe added the others.

Igor Devonsky with two, Edward Ivanof and Boris Mailorov scored for the Selects, who were beaten 10-1 by the more's Unitas, named the game's most valuable player, toss three touchdowns passes — all in the first half — for a Pro Bowl record.

Green Bay's Hornung scored one touchdown, kicked a field goal and five conversions for a total of 14 points — another record.

The West's defensive line was led by Baltimore's Lipscomb, named the game's top lineman. The line held the East to a scant 59 yards rushing.

Y. A. Tittle of San Francisco spelled Unitas and tossed seven straight strikes during a second-quarter touchdown drive. He completed 13 of 18 passes.

Los Angeles' John Arnett led the West's runners with 61 yards in 11 carries. He picked up 44 more on passes, 38 on punt returns and 68 on kickoff returns for a total of 211 yards.

The West's defensive line put a terrific rush on Pittsburgh's Bobby Layne at quarterback the whole game because Norm van Brocklin of Philadelphia had the flu.

WIFE KILLED

Hockey Star Injured

CHICAGO (AP) — Doreen Litzberger, wife of Chicago Black Hawks hockey player Ed Litzberger, was fatally injured early today in an automobile accident.

Litzberger, 28, was injured in the crash and taken to Swedish Covenant Hospital. He was listed in serious condition with possible internal injuries.

Police said Mrs. Litzberger, 26, was believed to have been driving the car when it skidded 80 feet into a viaduct. She was thrown out.

PLAYED SUNDAY
Litzberger, a first-string right wing for the National Hockey League club, is a native of Neudorf, Sask.

Litzberger started his major league hockey career with the Montreal Canadiens in 1952 and was purchased by the Black Hawks in December, 1954, for $15,000.

McDonald Decided By Cardinal
In the main event of a 12-bout boxing card at Work Point barracks Saturday night, Pte. Lawrence Cardinal decided Danny McDonald of the Victoria Boxing Club in a 150-pound bout.

Some 1,000 spectators watched the fights, which mostly finished in decisions.

Alan Curtis of Esquimalt Legion beat Pte. E. J. Hand-spiker in the 165-pound division and team-mate Mike Caird out-fought Pte. Concooter in a 147-pound bout.

Pte. Bouchant decided for quimball's Gordie McDonald in the 130-pound class and Danny Pringle of Colwood downed Pte. Olson.

SHARP GOALTENDING
The Russians had only 18 shots on goal compared with 40 by the Dutchmen who were thwarted time and again by Moscow's stand-up goaltender, teenaged Vladimir Chmlov.

Kitchener drew six of the eight minor penalties in the game played under international rules, which forbid a team to bodycheck in its opponents' half of the ice.

Favorites Avoid Upsets; Gorge Captures Cup Final

Results ran true to form in Sunday's Victoria and District Soccer League action, so it could be that the upset-minded are saving their best for the Province Cup games.

With a record entry from Vancouver Island looking forward to the start of the provincial competition, there's plenty of room for upsets.

All 11 league entries entered in the knockout draw along with a new, unknown quantity—squad from Port Alberni.

Port Alberni shows its strength next Sunday against Ladysmith, currently running second in the Victoria District League. Province Cup activity gets under way a day earlier at Royal Athletic Park when Canadian Scottish play Brodie's.

Other games next Sunday pit Gorge Hotel against Heaney's and Evcoes against Kickers.

The favorites came through in all four Sunday games, front-running Evcoes trounced Heaney's 7-2 with the help of George Paul's four goals. Ladysmith edged Saanich Thistles 3-2. Kickers beat Esquimalt 5-2, and Victoria West nipped Navy 3-1.

The big weekend match, of course, was Saturday's Jackson Cup final at Royal Athletic Park. The Gorge, showing poise and prime conditioning, won the knockout trophy by defeating Brodie's 4-1.

Coach George Kulai's Hotelmen started in brilliant fashion, scoring all their goals in the first 19 minutes. The marksmen were Chummy Crabbe (twice), Dunc McCaig and Harold Holroyd.

Halfback Willie Hamilton counted Brodie's only goal on a well-placed penalty kick with about eight minutes left in the game.

Sunday's scorers and standings:

More Parking Space For View Street Plan

By JOHN MIKA

At least 50 and possibly 100 additional car spaces will be provided by a redesigned version of the View Street parking garage.

But serious work on the parking and pedestrian mall project won't begin for at least a month, Mayor Percy Scourrah said today.

The redesigning of the four-level garage which will straddle View west of Blanshard is now underway, he said.

Details of the new design are not available but an interim report by city engineer J. C. Garnett released last week indicated that parking space might be upped to 400 cars from the previous 350 maximum.

It may even go higher, to 450 cars, when the new plans are complete.

Take It E-easy Job Successful

The 13-foot draught of the German freighter Sprestein dropped about two inches today when the heaviest one-part cargo to arrive here since the Second World War was lifted from the hold.

TUESDAY MEETINGS

Victoria North Kiwanis: 6:15 p.m., Monterey Restaurant. Guest speaker will be Cecil G. Clark, former deputy commissioner, B.C. provincial police.

Victoria Kiwanis: Noon, Empress Hotel. R. A. Mackie, Montreal, general manager of CPR hotels, will speak concerning "Tourists on the Move."

Cymrodorion (Welsh) Society: 6:30, Dulcie's catering hall, 512 Fort. Election of officers for 1960.

The cargo, made in Switzerland and shipped by sea from Antwerp, was a giant 93-ton generator, unloaded at Esquimalt graving dock by the huge, careful 100-ton crane on wharf tracks.

15-MINUTE TENSION

It was slow, delicate work and took a solid 15 minutes of inch-by-inch movement.

The 20 by 14 by 13-foot electrical "appliance" is bound for Edmonton where it will be used in that city's steam power plant.

Original thought here was to lower the generator to a CNR flatcar, an extra-large type specially brought from Eastern Canada to handle the job.

PLANS CHANGED

But at actual unloading time the flatcar had not arrived on the scene, so the generator was gently eased to the wharf itself and "bucked up" later when the flatcar showed.

Next slated move in the big haul was to the CNR's Point Ellice ferry slip, then by barge and ferry service to Port Mann and on to Edmonton via rail.

Tunnels, bridges and tracks en route have been carefully checked to ensure safe passage.

Previous heavy lifts at Dockyard were in wartime when tugs, also weighing close to 100 tons, were transhipped from here.

Boy Injured In Cliff Fall

A 20-foot tumble to the beach off Dallas Road near Moss put 15-year-old Barry Rogers, 1693 Richardson, in Jubilee Hospital with a broken wrist Sunday at 1:30 p.m.

Police said Rogers and his companion Len Pearson, 1532 Jubilee, were playing on the steep bank when Rogers lost his footing and took the plunge.

Rogers, who also was examined for possible chest injury, is in good condition today the hospital said.

NEW B.C. LOAN FOR SCHOOLS

Education Minister Leslie Peterson told a meeting at North Vancouver Saturday night that the provincial government soon may issue a new series of debentures to alleviate the shortage of money for school construction.

The minister criticized the federal government's "tight money policy" which he said was responsible for the money shortage.

It's A Bust —In More Ways Than One

Six months ago Queen Elizabeth was welcomed to Victoria at an official civic ceremony in Beacon Hill Park where she met the heads of the four municipalities.

A concrete bust of Her Majesty was to be ready for unveiling in the park within a week to serve as a permanent reminder of the royal visit.

Today an interim bill for $200 was received at City Hall from sculptress Peggy Walton Packard with the information that the bust "is now ready for removal to a permanent position."

But it looks like another six months will pass before the move is made because of a dispute in intermunicipal council over the cost, originally predicted as a "nominal" amount and now estimated to require $1,000.

The sum includes a $350 commission to Miss Packard and landscaping an appropriate setting for the concrete bust.

NEW PROVINCIAL PARK was born last week when Capt. E. G. Beaumont, "Discovery" Island owner, right, presented deed to 350 acres on Fraser Lake east of Prince George to Recreation and Conservation Minister Earle Westwood. Property contains 1,000 feet of sandy beach, and will be converted into a campsite and day-use picnic area by government.

Divers Search For Five Bodies

IT WAS LUCKY 13 FOR PATIENT

Thirteen naval personnel from HMCS Naden volunteered blood for an emergency operation at the Royal Jubilee Hospital Sunday afternoon.

The hospital appealed for Group O Rh negative type blood through the Victoria Red Cross clinic at 1046 Fort Street. The clinic promptly telephoned HMCS Naden and in less than an hour 13 volunteers were driven direct to the hospital laboratory by the Red Cross.

Seven of the naval donors were found suitable, and the operation, described as "delicate surgery to the kidney," was performed successfully.

Cushion Found In Quarry

A diving team led by Laurie McCracken of Nanaimo today began full-scale attempts to recover the bodies of five miners believed to have drowned in 120 feet of water in a lime quarry on Texada Island.

RCMP from Powell River are in charge of the search and diving operations.

The five miners, missing since last Monday, apparently died when their car plunged into the quarry as they returned to Gillies Bay, on Texada Island, after returning by boat from a hockey game at Powell River.

CUSHION FOUND

Their disappearance was not reported to RCMP until Friday. Sunday a car cushion—identified by the car owner—was found floating on the quarry's murky waters.

RCMP headquarters here were still waiting at press time for word of the operation. It was feared that the caustic nature of the water might make it impossible for skin divers to work, and that a hard-hat diving team may have to be taken to the scene.

PUMP IT OUT

If diving attempts are unsuccessful, a police spokesman said, an effort may be made to pump water out of the quarry.

The missing men were identified as Jack Wilkinson, 20, Donald Brock, 34, Bud Lewis, 47, Gary Beads, 21, and John Scott, 35, all employed as miners at Gillies Bay.

Discovery of the car cushion followed a long search of the 30-mile-long island opposite Qualicum Beach. Skid marks were also found leading to the lip of the quarry.

Police said the men landed at Blubber Bay and set out to drive the 15 miles to their homes. There were no high banks along the route where the car might have toppled over into the sea, as was first believed.

Cool Robber Takes Till, $60 in Cash

A thief who walked into the office of Coronation Motors, 2978 Douglas, as the mechanic-attendant worked in the service department, calmly walked out with the $225 cash register and its $60 contents Saturday night.

Police were called at 9:15 and in a search of the area found the cash register abandoned behind a truck on a parking lot on Burnside about a half block from the service station.

It contained $236 in silver, but all paper currency was missing.

Attendant Harold Fenwick, 967 North Park, said he had been working on a truck in the rear part of the station when the theft was thought to have taken place.

Detectives examined the till for possible fingerprints, not disclosing whether the effort was successful.

Famed Australian To Guest Conduct City's Symphony

Sir Bernard Heinze, director of the state conservatorium in New South Wales, Australia, will appear with the Victoria Symphony Orchestra as guest conductor in concerts March 27 and 28.

His visit here will be a part of a survey of Canada's symphony orchestras. Sponsored by the Canada Council, it is to provide the council with an objective picture of the needs of symphony orchestras as a guide for future assistance.

The council grants some $200,000 a year to symphony orchestras to help pay their deficits.

Delay Blamed On Hospital By Martin

Delays in construction of the new $2,500,000 wing for Royal Jubilee Hospital are the responsibility of the hospital board and its architects, Health Minister Eric Martin indicated today.

He was commenting on a statement by hospital administrator George Masters that construction will not get underway until late spring and probably won't be completed before late 1961. The community share of the capital cost was raised months ago.

"There is no lag as far as we are concerned," said Mr. Martin. "There is no hold-up on this end."

He said his department is doing all possible to speed the project. "The hospital architects are still working on the drawings," he said.

STILL WAITING

Mr. Masters had stated the hospital board is still waiting provincial government approval for construction.

"We are optimistic we will get it soon," he said.

Mr. Martin said approval would follow without delay as soon as the hospital complied with all B.C. Hospital Insurance Service requirements.

BCHIS had told him, "any delays are not through inactivity on our part."

The hospital recently completed a $58,000 series of projects preliminary to the main undertaking, including laundry, parking lot and kitchen improvements and new quarters for internes.

French-Canadian Of Pioneer Stock Dies Here at 81

Funeral service for Dumont Huot, descendant of early French Canadian families, will be held Tuesday at 9 a.m. in St. Andrew's Cathedral.

Mr. Huot, 81, died Thursday. Born in Montreal, he lived at the ancestral home at Beaulieu, Quebec, until his retirement in 1943 from the federal civil service, then moved to Sidney and three years ago to 165 Cook.

He is a descendant of Canadian families who arrived here from France in the late 1600s and early 1700s.

His lifelong hobby was breeding pigeons and he was a member of the Victoria Poultry and Pet Stock Association.

Survivors include one stepson, Frank Greenwood, Victoria.

Interment will be in Royal Oak.

Murison to Speak

Nominee for the Progressive Conservative candidacy in the next provincial election, for Victoria, Maj. Gen. C. A. P. Murison, will be guest speaker at a public meeting sponsored by the Saanich Progressive Conservative Association, Friday.

The place is the Blue Room, 1303 Broad, and the time 8 p.m. Gen. Murison's topic will be related to provincial-municipal sharing of costs and services.

Government Employees Take Oath

Forty new B.C. Government workers, 22 in Victoria, took their oath of office in courthouse ceremonies throughout the province today.

Under a new system the ceremonies will be held every two weeks.

In Victoria, court registrar B. J. B. Morahan officiated. Monocled and employing a crisp British accent and a manner acquired in the British colonial service in the Far East, he made the occasion one to be remembered.

HE TOLD 'EM

"The oath of office is binding assurance you will perform your duties faithfully, honestly and with discretion. No greater responsibility could you assume... the welfare of the people of British Columbia is in your hands," he stated.

He reminded the new employees, clerks, draughtsmen, a nurse and a lab technician among them—that any carelessness or neglect in their work could have serious political results.

He said if they write for publication anything in connection with their work, approval must be obtained from their departments.

unless there is some physical reason for not doing so.

My Marathon booklet gives you an exercise for most of the usual defects in figure. However, it occurred to me that those of you who have begun Marathon and those of you who will start as soon as you receive your booklet, might like more variety in exercise. Also, even though some of you may not have taken Marathon to your hearts, and figures you may be interested in a few of the exercises I have found to be most effective in figure molding.

When I say that I have found them to be effective I do not mean that I have dreamed them up or read about them or suspect that they are especially good, but that I have seen with my own eyes what they have done for the figures of those in my classes.

Of course any exercise helps all the body measurements, but there are exercises for every measurement which are much more rewarding in results than others. No one could or should take all the exercises which appear in print. For a few days now I will give you those I know to be splendid.

Today let me give you some general directions about exercise. If you have not done so lately, you should have your heart and blood pressure checked before beginning exercise. Also you should start in slowly and increase gradually.

These are the spots in which weight usually gathers. Begin doing each one 10 times and gradually increase until you are doing each one 35 times daily. You do not have to continue for 35 times without stopping. You can break and rest in between times.

Follow instructions carefully. Sometimes the difference between having a knee bent or straight for instance, can make a big difference in how effective it is.

If you missed my 8-Week Self-Improvement Marathon and would like to join, you can do so by sending 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the Marathon booklet. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Easy-to-Use Wallpapers Sell at Low, Low Prices!

By PENNY SAVER

Just as the buying of a new hat works wonders for a woman with a problem, decorating the home is equally a morale-booster for many a homemaker during dull winter period. Now, while the ground is still too wet to allow gardening, and social life is at its lowest ebb, is the time to plan how to rejuvenate rooms and bring a gay note into family surroundings.

Sale of wallpaper in town makes it possible for the tightest budget to absorb the cost of a little home decoration. Wallpaper is so easy to apply now that it's self-pasted. Old arguments that wallpaper is impractical and hard to keep clean just don't stand up with the papers of today.

Plastic coating on present day types means that you can clean off dirty marks, over and over again. One particularly attractive pattern I've seen has Norway-pines as its colorful theme. For $4.76 you can buy enough to paper a 9 x 12 foot room.

Dutch print, showing busy, capped housewives and colorful street scenes would add fun to any kitchen decor. Enough to paper the average kitchen would cost $5.25.

For chilly mornings there's nothing cozier than one of the full-length English wool flannel housecoats that are on sale this week. This is your chance to pick up a $24.95 robe for just $16.64.

Housecoats are all piped in toning shades and have self-tie belts. Color range includes aqua, blue, red and old rose.

DEAR ABBY . . .

Words On Christmas Parties

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I can't understand why large companies will work so hard all year to build good will and then destroy it all at Christmas with that foolish institution known as The Company Christmas Party. Very few companies invite the husbands and wives of their employees to attend these parties. Most employees attend because they are afraid not to. With all the free booze around and an excuse to drink it, it's a pretty dangerous time for the better half to be sitting home.

MORNING AFTER. DEAR ABBY: I think the annual Christmas Party should be limited to unmarried people only. I am a single woman, Abby, and I had a miserable time at ours. So did most of the other single girls. The competition from the married women was just unbelievable. One trowzy blonde came in a strapless red satin dress that was so tight she couldn't sit down in it. She took root under the mistletoe in the doorway and spent the evening kissing every man she could drag under it. All the single girls sat while the married women picked off all the men. It was disgraceful! DISGUSTED.

DEAR ABBY: I'd like to know if I'm "old-fashioned" or are there other wives who don't approve of their husbands going to Company Christmas parties without their wives?

My husband and I have never fought about anything in all the eleven years we've been married—until this came up. I finally won out and he stayed home.

MARCIE. Since then he has been so sullen and ugly I am sorry now I didn't let him go.

DEAR ABBY: Was I wrong to forbid my wife to attend her company's Christmas party when she was specifically told not to bring her husband?

My wife is not in the habit of going to mixed parties unescorted in the evenings. Furthermore, a married woman has no business being escorted by a man other than her own husband. Why, then, should an annual Company party be an exception to the rule of commonsense and propriety? How do you feel about it, Abby?

ONE MAN'S VIEWPOINT. DEAR MAN: Anything that breeds misunderstanding, jealousy and hostility between husband and wife should be discouraged. The Company Christmas Party included.

Have you read Abby's new, best-selling book, "Dear Teen-Ager?"

Ley-Jubb Vows Said In St. Luke's Church

St. Luke's Anglican Church was decorated with golden yellow and white chrysanthemums for the marriage Saturday evening of Kathleen Stella, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Jubb of Dallas Road and William Henry Ley, son of Mrs. Irene Ley, Avebury Avenue, and the late W. H. C. Ley. Rev. T. D. B. Raggs officiated at the service.

A silk taffeta gown was worn by the attractive bride. Flouncings of French imported lace formed the semi-scooped Bertha neckline trimmed with sparkling paillettes. Full skirt was appliqued with matching lace. Gown was styled with a low-ered waistline. Deep pink roses and fern were in the bridal bouquet. Bride was given in marriage by her father.

Aqua green lace posed over taffeta formed the waltz-length gown worn by matron of honor, Mrs. F. Casswell, sister of the groom. Her hat and gloves were en tone. Miss Marguerite Fracy was bridesmaid. She wore a similar dress in rose pink lace. Both attendants carried bouquets of pink carnations tied with pink streamers.

R. Berlieman was best man and ushers were Frank Casswell and Peter Jubb.

Miniature pink rosebuds to match the bride's bouquet topped a three-tier wedding cake which centred the bridal table at reception in Thistle Room, Glenisiel Hotel. Joe Sharples proposed toast.

A pale blue dressmaker suit was worn by the bride for her going-away outfit. Her hat of flowers was en tone and she had black accessories. She topped the ensemble with a muskrat fur jacket. Her corsage was of pink roses.

After a honeymoon travelling on the mainland and in Washington State, the newlyweds will make their temporary home at the Redwood Motel.

Luncheon

Members of the women's committee of the Art Gallery of Greater Victoria entertained at a buffet luncheon today prior to a tour of the gallery by Mayor Percy B. Scurrah and Mrs. Scurrah, and reeves, aldermen, councillors and their wives. Convener of the luncheon was Mrs. Athol Sutherland-Brown. Assisting her were Mrs. Douglas Leechman, Mrs. A. R. Lort, Mrs. E. Gudewill, Mrs. David Macknight and Mrs. Angus Kenning.

WoolLaceGownWornforWedding

Classic simplicity was keynote of wedding gown chosen by Helen Dolores Selin, daughter of Mrs. J. Walker, 1261 Fort Street, for her marriage to Henry Carus Kyle, son of Mrs. J. A. Kyle, Flemington, New Jersey, Saturday evening. "Queen Bess" winter-white wool lace-over-satin formed the cocktail-length gown that featured a slightly rounded neckline, long sleeves and skirt softened by unpressed pleats. Bow of the same lace held in place her shoulder-length veil. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and pink rosebuds.

Chrysanthemums in warm shades of yellow, orange and bronze decorated Grace Lutheran Church for the ceremony. Rev. Loran-Nadiger officiated. John Walker escorted the bride up the aisle.

Only attendant was the bride's sister, Mrs. W. Haddon. Her gown was of Bermuda beige lace and satin in bronze and rose tones. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and yellow rosebuds.

Brother-in-law of the bride, William Haddon, was best man. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Haddon. A Swedish smorgasbord was served.

For a honeymoon trip Up-Island the bride chose a moss green mohair dress, topped by a black Blin and Blin coat. She wore accessories to match the green of her dress. Corsage was a white gardenia.

VANCOUVER ISLAND ROUNDUP

Police Press Jewel Theft Probe

NANAIMO—RCMP here today continued their investigation into the theft Friday night or Saturday morning of an estimated $15,000 in jewelry and cash from People's Credit Jewellers here.

Local manager John R. P. Watkins said an inventory of stock on hand will be completed Wednesday, then will be forwarded to Toronto, where the company stock control is centred.

Exact amount of the loss may not be known for some time, he said.

Bulk of the loss was in diamond rings, he said. Watches, cigarette lighters, other items of jewelry, and cash, cheques and money orders made up the rest. The rings had been taken from a safe, which had been forced open with a crowbar and sledge hammer.

CHEMAINUS—Officers of Chemainus Rod and Gun Club for the coming year are George Cross, president; Al Dyer, vice-president, and Harry Swales, secretary.

Committee chairmen are Jack Halme, access, and Jack Lock, boat basin. Mr. Halme was named delegate to the Affiliated Fish and Game Clubs of Vancouver Island.

Annual club banquet will be held March 12.

DUNCAN—Annual meeting of the Duncan and District Association for Retarded Children will be held at Arcadian School, Second Street, Tuesday at 8 p.m.

DUNCAN—Two Victoria sport fishermen, Edward Anfield and Charles Wilkins, escaped serious injury Saturday when their car went off Cowichan Lake Road and turned over three times.

Mr. Anfield, driver, said he headed into a ditch deliberately to avoid a car skidding toward him on a curve. The second car did not stop.

DUNCAN—Cowichan Fish and Game Association will request the North Cowichan municipal council to improve and widen the road to Quamichan and Somenos Lakes.

The association contends there is no parking space at the lakeside and that the present road is only 16 feet wide.

Council will be asked to open the undeveloped Henderson Road.

LUXTON—Panel consisting of two teachers and two parents will sit at the general meeting tonight of Happy Valley PTA to discuss "how best we can serve our children."

Final plans will be made for the PTA fair at Luxton Hall Feb. 25.

SIDNEY—Fire hall property here has been deeded to the Sidney Village Commission by Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce, former owner of the site.

Before the present fire district was formed, the fire department was operated by a special committee of the chamber.

The pupils wish to raise money for their charity fund and school building fund.

FROM THEOLOGICAL COLLEGE

Island Talks Set By Anglican Group

Staff members and students from Anglican Theological College at UBC will observe Theological Education Sunday this Sunday by visiting Victoria and Island churches.

They will explain to congregations the urgent need at the college for a men's residence

LADYSMITH—A drinking party which started New Year's Eve on the Vancouver-Nanaimo boat led to the death New Year's Day of Gerald O'Hanley, 35, of Vancouver, according to verdict of an inquest here.

BY LEGION

Active Sports Program Set At Chemainus

CHEMAINUS—The sports committee of the Canadian Legion, Branch 191, under the chairmanship of Earl English, has lined up an ambitious program for the ensuing year.

One of the first events sponsored by the branch will be an amateur fight card in the Community Centre Saturday.

It will feature fighters from Victoria and Nanaimo as well as local talent from the host Legion Club.

Former B.C. Golden Glove champion Terry Eastman of Chemainus will meet Allan Curtis of the Esquimalt Legion club in the main event.

GOLF

The branch golf committee headed by Bill Foulds is making plans for an All Island Legion Open to be held at the Mt. Brenton golf club in Chemainus in June. This is believed to be the first such golfing event attempted by the Canadian Legion in Canada, and if successful it will be opened to entries from all B.C. branches next year.

Baseball committee under the guidance of Ron Gibbons is working hard to re-establish senior ball in Chemainus and the Mid-Island district. The branch will again sponsor a pony league team to be coached by Stan Dyke.

Harford Re-named By Credit Union

DUNCAN—Vern Harford was re-elected president of the Matthew 7.12 Credit Union at the first annual meeting in Duncan.

Committee members elected include N. D. Hunter and J. M. Ball, executive; H. Merrett, supervisor; S. McIlroy and B. Ruff, credit.

A five per cent dividend and five per cent refund for patrons was declared by the directors.

The one-year-old group has 225 members with a total of $13,528 in shares. It has loaned 166 members a total of $18,636.

The membership learned that the union is covered by insurance which carries a double indemnity clause in the case of accidental death. It is the only credit union in B.C. with this coverage, the directors believe.

DUNCAN MOVE

'Know Your Neighbor'—Alderman

(From Duncan Bureau)
A proposal that Duncan city council invite members of North Cowichan municipal council to one of their meetings in the near future has been made by Ald. James H. Saunders.

"I think we would work better together if we got to know each other a little better," Ald. Saunders said at a recent council meeting.

"We're doing it with the Indians and it's working well. I think we should take the first step," Ald. Saunders said.

He added that the city has "many problems in common with the municipality and could work out the solution better under a friendlier arrangement."

AOTS Council Appoints Duncan Man

Arthur Mann of Duncan was installed as president of the Vancouver Island District AOTS Council during a week-end council meeting at Esquimalt United Church.

Others taking office were Al Windle, Nanaimo, first vice-president; Roland Appleby, Centennial Club, Victoria, second vice-president; William Owens, Duncan, secretary-treasurer, and Edmond Hess, Chemainus, past president.

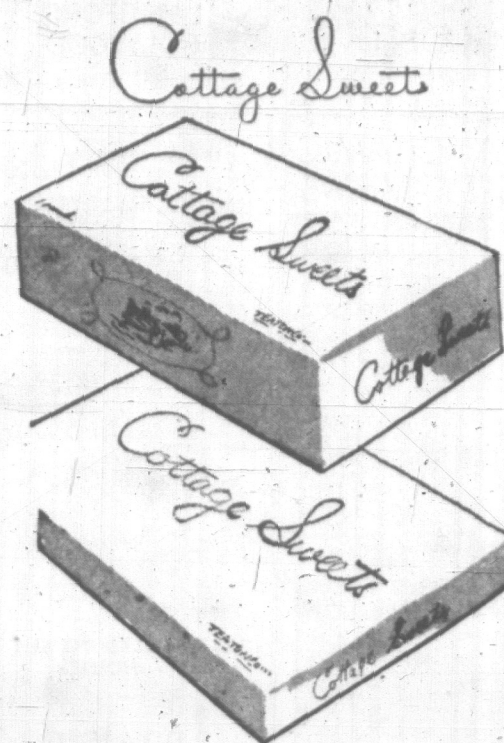

Installing officer was Charles Burritt, Burnaby, president of the Canadian Association of AOTS Clubs, who reported there now are 484 clubs registered in Canada.

Delegates from 11 Vancouver Island clubs attended and presented annual reports. Oak Bay and Brentwood Clubs were welcomed as new groups formed during the year.

'They Fear Criticism'

Reginald Sinkinson, vice-chairman of School Board 63, said today "fear of criticism" is one of the main reasons why Central Saanich lacks candidates for two vacant seats on the school board.

He was commenting on a council proposal to ask the government to appoint trustees to fill two seats vacated by Ernest Lee and P. S. Lomas instead of holding by-elections.

Council, under the School Act, has the option of calling by-elections or requesting the government to fill the seats by appointments.

Mr. Sinkinson said people won't run for office in the farming municipality because they fear they will be subjected to a barrage of criticism on rising school costs.

He said the school board in February will submit again the $799,000 school building bylaw which was defeated by ratepayers in December.

NEED THEM
"This will mean increased school costs," he said. "Be it so—we need the schools. Our population is expanding." Central Saanich now has no representative on the school board.

The first vacant seat occurred in December. P.S. Lomas' two-year term expired and he decided against seeking re-election. No candidate offered himself for office.

Ernest Lee still had one year left to complete his term but resigned earlier this month.

Canada 'Living It Up' in Grand Manner

WINNIPEG (CP)—James Coyne, governor of the Bank of Canada, today said Canadians have been "living beyond our means on a grand scale" for at least five years.

He said bluntly that Canada must resolve to live within its means—is expanding its capital resources and consumer expenditures—or face going even deeper into the red in the nation's foreign debt.

A succession of big annual deficits in international payments since the Second World War "shows that our situation is not temporary but is becoming chronic," Mr. Coyne said in a luncheon speech to the Canadian Club of Winnipeg.

This deficit increased last year to around the

1956 level of $1,366,000,000 he said "and seems likely to increase in 1960 to a new record high figure of $1,500,000,000 or more."

Mr. Coyne called for "a more moderate approach to capital spending in Canada" to help the country live within its means and to channel production into goods that would help reduce the big trade deficit.

Willingness to do without foreign capital borrowings, to limit new investments to amounts that can be raised in Canada, would reduce inflationary pressures, cut the annual deficit on international payments and increase Canada's ability to compete in export markets.

Mr. Coyne said an important item in Canada's trade deficit has been in volume of imports of capital goods—machinery and equipment for capital expansion.

The high rate of these imports was "symptomatic of capital spending at a rate which is greater than can be provided out of our own national savings."

In addition there had been a rapid expansion in the importation of consumer goods.

"In other words, we are incurring foreign debt to pay for both a level of capital spending and a standard of comfort which are higher than would be justified by our own earning capacity."

"I have no doubt that our exports could be further increased and our imports could be reduced if we adopted a more moderate approach to capital spending in Canada."

If governments and businesses alike brought about a substantial reduction in capital expenditures, imports of capital goods would be less.

"Moreover, if so much of our own productive resources were not devoted to construction, more could be utilized in production for export and more could be devoted to production of various kinds of goods for the domestic market at competitive costs and thereby bring about a further reduction in the volume of imports."

U.S. TO PUT MAN IN SPACE NEXT YEAR?

(See Page 5)

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower said today the United States may put a man in space in 1961.

He made the forecast in proposing civilian and military space expenditures of $918,000,000 in fiscal 1961 starting July 1.

Nasa's Mercury manned satellite project "will enter the operational phase" in the new fiscal year, the president said, and "actual manned space flights may be attempted in 1961."

Trade Talks 'Give Hope' Says Fleming

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Fleming today expressed "satisfaction and hope" over developments of last week's vital trade talks at Paris.

In a Commons statement, he also voiced the Canadian government's willingness that Canada be a full member of a reorganized body for European economic co-operation as proposed at the Paris talks.

Mr. Fleming made the statements in an extended report to the House on the Paris conference, which were aimed at finding a co-operative solution to differences between the two new European free trade blocs and increasing economic aid to under-developed countries.

He said that in the short time available, the meetings "did not attempt to grapple with substantive issues of trade."

However, it did set up a committee to provide "machinery which could come to grips with these issues."

Railway Cost Study Sought

OTTAWA (CP)—Counsel for Manitoba and Alberta plan to ask Canada's royal commission on transportation to sponsor a wide-ranging study of railway costs and revenues by commodity groups.

A notice of motion on the cost proposal has been served on the commission by Arthur Mauro, Manitoba counsel, and J. J. Frawley, representing Alberta.

4 Children Killed

SEVENSON, Ala. (UPI)—Two Southern Railway diesel units smashed into a school bus at 50 miles an hour today, killing four children and critically injuring eight others.

5 B.C. Groups Open Bid for TV Station

VANCOUVER (CP)—About 150 broadcasters crowded a hotel ballroom here today as the board of broadcast governors began its hearing of five applications for the licence to operate a second television station in Vancouver.

The five private organizations seek to broadcast in the area in competition with the CBC's TV outlet here, CBUT, and at least four United States stations whose signal reaches into the Vancouver area.

Police Guns Blaze In Uganda Tax Riots

KAMPALA, Uganda (Reuters)—Police opened fire with riot guns in Uganda today for the second time in three days as disturbances over tax assessments spread in the eastern part of the country.

Nobody was injured. The crowd reformed after the firing and was finally dispersed with tear gas.

Three hundred extra police were sent to trouble spots in this British territory and the government announced tonight that two companies of the Uganda rifles were being moved in.

Trouble now has spread to a fourth county in the area. The disturbances grew out of assessments by local committees of the amount of tax people should pay to their African local government authority.

One man was killed when police fired on demonstrators in the Mbale area of eastern Uganda Saturday.

A police plane today dropped leaflets over the region telling Africans an inquiry would be made into the tax grievances and appealing for calm.

Negro Leaders Boycott Kenya Freedom Talks

LONDON (AP)—Independence-seeking Negro leaders today boycotted the opening of vital talks on Kenya's future because Britain banned a delegate wanted by Kenya authorities as a Mau Mau sympathizer.

Tom Mboya and Ronald Ngala stayed away from the formal launching of the conference after British Colonial Secretary Iain Macleod refused to approve the credentials of the suspected Negro representative.

He was Peter Koyanke, for whom Mboya and Ngala had requested authorization to attend the talks as a special adviser.

The conference, called to write a new constitution for Kenya, began amid public demands by the Negroes for immediate self-rule and political equality with white men in the colony.

JUNGLE BATTLEGROUND EMERGENCY DECLARED

LEOPOLDVILLE, Belgian Congo (Reuters)—The colonial government declared a state of emergency in a jungle battleground of warring tribesmen Sunday after rejecting as "inhuman" a rough settlement reached by their chiefs.

The emergency applied to the central province of Kasai where more than 100 Africans have died in tribal clashes.

RHODESIA 'LION'S DEN'

Crucial Phase For Macmillan

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (UPI)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan arrives today in this stronghold of white supremacy for a visit that may generate new tension on the African racial scene.

It was a 3,000-mile hop from the steamy lowlands of free Nigeria to the crisp heights of this capital of the central African federation. For Macmillan it was a trip into a lion's den.

A large portion of the white population of the federation fear that this visit may be tied in with a move to break up the federation and possibly to free Dr. Hastings Banda, the African nationalist leader who has been in jail 10 months as a threat to law and order.

Many of the black population fear Macmillan may not go far enough in helping them edge out from under the "master-and-servant relationship" by which Salisbury's 85,000 whites have ruled the 180,000 black citizens since colonial days.

The uneasy federation is made up of Southern and Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland. It was formed six years ago and the inclusion of the almost totally African state of Nyasaland has been widely resented by the negroes.

Back of much of the discontent is the 53-year-old Banda who was charged with sedition last year during the height of a racial clash in the Nyasaland territory in which more than 50 natives were killed.

London newspapers reported he would be released next month. The Colonial Office neither confirmed nor denied the reports but implied he would be held till the governor no longer considers him a threat.

Cyprus Freedom Delayed

LONDON (Reuters)—A deadlocked conference on Cyprus today decided to postpone independence for the British island colony for one month.

Under an agreement reached here a year ago Cyprus was due to become an independent republic Feb. 19.

The three-day conference ran into a complete deadlock over the size of two British military bases to be retained after independence.

Archbishop Makarios, president-elect of Cyprus, requested the postponement with the approval of Cyprus' vice-president-elect, Fadil Kutchuk.

The other three parties represented at the conference were the British, Greek and Turkish foreign ministers.

Boat of His Own Was on the Way

Terry Lee Brotherston, 12, of East Sooke, who paddled off on a makeshift raft just minutes before relatives arrived at his home with a boat for him, drowned Sunday afternoon in Sooke Harbor while trying to swim ashore.

Help arrived within minutes but artificial respiration given on the spot, and later by a Sooke Volunteer Fire Department inhalator crew, failed to revive the boy.

The accident occurred shortly after 3:30 p.m. while Terry was setting out his own crab traps about 100 feet off shore, and adjacent to his parents' large piece of property in East Sooke. On shore watching him were Dale Lowe, nine, and Robbie Kennedy, eight, his cousins, and his younger brother, Steven, eight.

The raft tipped, throwing Terry into the water. He called out to his shore-mates to go for help, but then he gave up a long struggle to climb on the raft and started to swim for shore. Dale Lowe ran to the Brotherston home to tell his and the others' parents.

Don Lowe, Dale's father and uncle of the victim, rushed to the scene and plunged into the water to find the lad under the surface about 40 feet from shore. He started artificial respiration while others sent for the fire department, RCMP from Colwood, and Dr. Jeffrey Bishop of Sooke.

It also was Mr. Lowe who had provided the boat for Terry to use instead of the raft in tending his crab traps.

TERRY BROTHERSTON ... fatal venture

Struggled 15 Minutes in Water

According to his friends, Terry was able to swim, but was hampered Sunday by his clothing and heavy rubber boots. He was in the water about 15 minutes before he sank, they said.

The family had lived in Langford until last September, and moved to East Sooke in time for the children to start school there. Terry attended Saseenos Elementary School.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brotherston, said he was "crazy about the water," and spent all his spare time either down at the shore or paddling on his raft.

The tragedy occurred about one-quarter mile from the family home. Police said no inquest will be held into the death, but that there will be an inquiry.

Surviving besides his parents and brother Steven are a sister, Kathy, seven; another brother, Brydon, two; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Johnson, of Langford, who were visiting the Brotherstons.

at the time of the accident; and another grandmother, Mrs. V. Pepper, of Victoria. He had three aunts and six uncles, and was one of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson's 26 grandchildren.

Funeral will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. at Sands Chapel of Heather, Colwood, and interment will be at Hatley Memorial Gardens.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

We acknowledge Thee, O God, as Lord of all creation. We are thankful that final control of outer space is in Thy hands. May we find the way to turn over to Thee the control of inner space. Forgive us that from our emptiness of spirit and from the vacancies of our hearts there rises into the world the poison of fear, hate, vindictive thought, and violent act. May the Spirit of Him who loved men at the price of His own death inspire us to bring peaceful thought and loving action into this world. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.

UP AGAINST A BRICK MURAL?

Non-Union Art Hassle

TORONTO (CP)—Union officials will be asked today why they insist that Canada's largest mural, already two-thirds completed, be finished by a union artist.

The Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers of America (CLC) has served notice that it wants artist R. York Wilson and two assistants to join the union.

The 100-foot mural is the only non-union work being carried out at the O'Keefe Centre here.

Mr. Wilson maintains "fine art is an individual and creative form of expression. I don't see how you can possibly unionize people who work as individuals."

here and in Montreal, has designed a panorama depicting arts and culture through the ages. The cultural centre is to be opened next September.

He will meet today with O'Keefe and union officials. David Roche, vice-president of O'Keefe brewing company, said union officials must explain their stand.

Charles F. Comfort, noted painter, newly appointed director of the National Gallery and president of the Royal Canadian Academy, said a mural "is not within the jurisdiction of a union, as much as I respect unions."

"On the face of it," said Mr. Comfort, "this is ridiculous."

It poses a grave danger to creative painting. Harry Colnett, Canadian Vice-president of the union, said the union has "no intention of interfering with the God-given gifts of these people."

Mr. Wilson, a Toronto-born artist who has painted murals

Pay-Price Climb Blamed for B.C. Inflation Threat

By HAL MALONE

"It doesn't matter if you pack home a wheelbarrow of $10 bills if all you can buy with them is a loaf of bread."

A hard-hitting construction executive Friday gave the cream of B.C.'s investment dealers this example to show "the real threat of inflation caused by the wage-price spiral."

George Wilkinson, vice-president of Marwell Construction and B.C. Bond Dealers' Association, told the group that the threat of inflation is not the amount of money that is in circulation but the amount of goods and services you can buy for the amount you receive.

In a broad, 50-minute address on "Industrial Relations

Union 'Backscratching' Rapped

Mr. Wilkinson was harshly critical of unions such as the plumbers and electricians "which scratch each other's backs"; of investors who won't "stand up and be counted"; and who believe in the "fallacy of completing the job at any cost"; of management which "does not brag about but disguises" healthy profits; of an "apathetic" general public; "one of the greatest basic causes of industrial unrest."

He had lavish praise for the provincial government for passing the controversial Bill 43.

'We Must Face Issues Honestly'

"Probably most important of all we must face up to the issues courageously and honestly, be prepared to stand up and be counted and get our thinking lined up on the basis of what is right and not who is right."

"I think you will agree," said Mr. Wilkinson, "that surely it is not unreasonable to expect that by using the collective intelligence of labor, management, the government and other interested groups in our society that real progress can be made toward industrial peace and stability."

He claimed investors must assume a share of the blame for some economic settlements which have been forced on contractors in many instances to avoid shutdowns.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Six-week TB detection campaign in downtown Victoria area started today with two mobile units "on the road."

The free chest X-ray and tuberculin testing is a co-operative effort between the Victoria-Esquamalt Health Units and the Christmas Seal Committee.

Area to be covered is bounded by the waterfront, Cook Street, Bay Street and the legislative buildings.

Close to 12,000 persons are expected to take advantage of the campaign.

Appointment of Cliff Burnip as sales supervisor of the B.C. Power Commission was announced today.

Mr. Burnip has been at Nanaimo for several years as sales representative.

He joined the commission service in 1947.

Further investigation of burglary and wilful damage at First Church of Christ Scientist overnight Friday is in the hands of juvenile officers, city detectives said today.

The church premises at Pandora and Chambers were desecrated by vandals who broke in, smashed glass and ink bottles and littered the building with papers from cupboards and filing cabinets.

Postage stamps totalling $25 and a two-cell flashlight were stolen, a full check of the premises disclosed today.

The Orient and Pacific liner Oronsay, 28,000 tons, was off Brodie Ledge early Sunday to take pilotage and quarantine officials aboard before continuing to Vancouver.

She arrived here at 6.35 a.m. from Honolulu and stayed for one hour and 10 minutes.

She has just been refitted and air-conditioned at a cost of $3,000,000.

A Portland, Ore., plan to revitalize its downtown area with a $21,512,000 off-street parking plan will be investigated by Victoria.

Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow, public works chairman, said an enquiry would be sent to the United States city to obtain details about the plan and its financing through revenue bonds secured by a special assessment on the downtown area, a method proposed for Victoria's View Street mall and parking project.

Results in the Froestie races at Royal Victoria Yacht Club Sunday were as follows: Penguin Class, first race: 1. "Bud" Trythall; 2. Bryce Swetnam; 3. Don McDonald. Second race: 1. Bryce Swetnam; 2. "Bud" Trythall; 3. Don McDonald. Third race: 1. "Bud" Trythall; 2. Bryce Swetnam; 3. Dick James.

Two youths arrested by police Friday were charged jointly in city police court today with possession of a stolen 1950 model car over $50 value.

They were Leo Past, 18, and Donald Ferguson, 19, who were remanded to Tuesday. Past pleaded guilty to the charge and Ferguson asked for a day's remand before pleading.

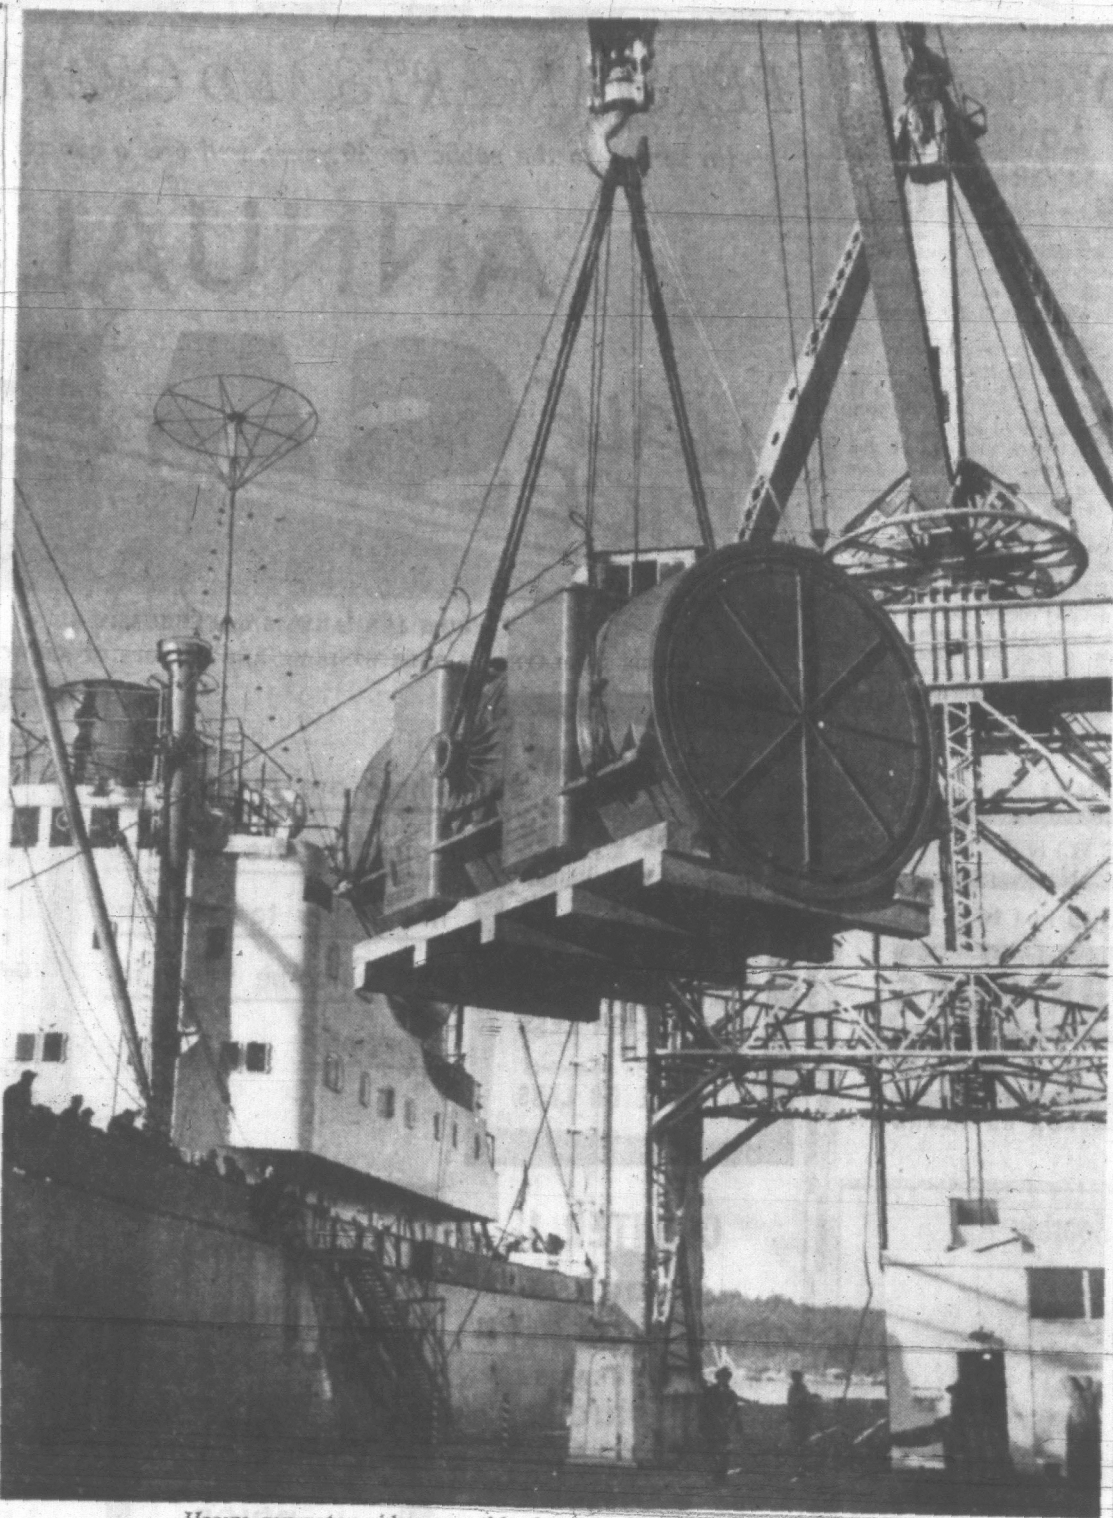

Ferguson was charged Saturday with driving while under suspension, for which he also was remanded to Tuesday for plea.

Penalty for employers who hire unlicensed chauffeurs is due for an increase if charges continue to come before Magistrate William Ostler.

He warned representatives of two firms before him today in city police court:

"There have been altogether too many of these cases. The penalty will have to be increased if it continues."

Each fined $10 for the offence were Progressive Music Ltd., 1320 Broad, and W. R. Menzies and Co. Ltd., 911 Fort.

STRIKE BAN TALKS DUE THIS WEEK

Officials of several labor organizations will meet in Vancouver Tuesday or Wednesday to discuss a reported change in the civil service oath which would require employees to swear never to strike.

B.C. Government Employees' Association secretary Ed O'Connor said today the group has received information the new oath is proposed for initial use in the hiring of B.C. government ferry workers. Government spokesmen were non-committal.

The meeting will be attended by officials of the BCGEA, the B.C. Federation of Labor, marine engineers of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway and Transport and Other Workers and the union representing captains and mates.

More Parking Space For View Street Plan

By JOHN MIKA

At least 50 and possibly 100 additional car spaces will be provided by a redesigned version of the View Street parking garage.

But serious work on the parking and pedestrian mall project won't begin for at least a month, Mayor Percy Scurren said today.

The redesigning of the four-level garage which will straddle View west of Blanshard is now underway, he said.

Details of the new design are not available but an interim report by city engineer J. C. Garnett released last week indicated that parking space might be upped to 400 cars from the previous 350 maximum.

It may even go higher, to 450 cars, when the new plans are complete.

Take It E-easy Job Successful

The 13-foot draught of the German freighter Spreestien dropped about two inches today when the heaviest one-part cargo to arrive here since the Second World War was lifted from the hold.

TUESDAY MEETINGS

Victoria North Kiwanis: 6.15 p.m., Monterey Restaurant. Guest speaker will be Cecil G. Clark, former deputy commissioner, B.C. provincial police.

Victoria Kiwanis: Noon, Empress Hotel. R. A. Mackie, Montreal, general manager of CPR hotels, will speak concerning "Tourists on the Move."

Cymrodorion (Welsh) Society: 6.30, Dulcie's catering hall, 512 Fort. Election of officers for 1960.

The cargo, made in Switzerland and shipped by sea from Antwerp, was a giant 93-ton generator, unloaded at Esquimalt graving dock by the huge, careful 100-ton crane on wharf tracks.

15-MINUTE TENSION

It was slow, delicate work and took a solid 15 minutes of inch-by-inch movement.

The 20 by 14 by 13-foot electrical "appliance" is bound for Edmonton where it will be used in that city's steam power plant.

Original thought here was to lower the generator to a CNR flatcar, an extra-large type specially brought from Eastern Canada to handle the job.

PLANS CHANGED

But at actual unloading time the flatcar had not arrived on the scene, so the generator was gently eased to the wharf itself and "bucked up" later when the flatcar showed.

Next slated move in the big haul was to the CNR's Point Ellice ferry slip, then by barge and ferry service to Port Mann and on to Edmonton via rail.

Tunnels, bridges and tracks en route have been carefully checked to ensure safe passage.

Previous heavy lifts at Dockyard were in wartime when tugs, also weighing close to 100 tons, were transhipped from here.

Boy Injured In Cliff Fall

A 20-foot tumble to the beach off Dallas Road near Moss put 15-year-old Barry Rogers, 1693 Richardson, in Jubilee Hospital with a broken wrist Sunday at 1.30 p.m.

Police said Rogers and his companion Len Pearson, 1532 Jubilee, were playing on the steep bank when Rogers lost his footing and took the plunge.

Rogers, who also was examined for possible chest injury, is in good condition today the hospital said.

NEW B.C. LOAN FOR SCHOOLS

Education Minister Leslie Peterson told a meeting at North Vancouver Saturday night that the provincial government soon may issue a new series of debentures to alleviate the shortage of money for school construction.

The minister criticized the federal government's "tight money policy" which he said was responsible for the money shortage.

IT WAS LUCKY 13 FOR PATIENT

Thirteen naval personnel from HMCS Naden volunteered blood for an emergency operation at the Royal Jubilee Hospital Sunday afternoon.

The hospital appealed for Group ORh negative type blood through the Victoria Red Cross clinic at 1946 Fort Street. The clinic promptly telephoned HMCS Naden and in less than an hour 13 volunteers were driven direct to the hospital laboratory by the Red Cross.

Seven of the naval donors were found suitable, and the operation, described as "delicate surgery to the kidney," was performed successfully.

Cool Robber Takes Till, $60 in Cash

A thief who walked into the office of Coronation Motors, 2978 Douglas, as the mechanic-attendant worked in the service department, calmly walked out with the $225 cash register and its $60 contents Saturday night.

Police were called at 9.15 and in a search of the area found the cash register abandoned behind a truck on a parking lot on Burnside about a half block from the service station.

It contained $2.36 in silver, but all paper currency was missing.

Attendant Harold Fenwick, 967 North Park, said he had been working on a truck in the rear part of the station when the theft was thought to have taken place.

Detectives examined the till for possible fingerprints, not disclosing whether the effort was successful.

Famed Australian To Guest Conduct City's Symphony

Sir Bernard Heinze, director of the state conservatorium in New South Wales, Australia, will appear with the Victoria Symphony Orchestra as guest conductor in concerts March 27 and 28.

His visit here will be a part of a survey of Canada's symphony orchestras. Sponsored by the Canada Council, it is to provide the council with an objective picture of the needs of symphony orchestras as a guide for future assistance.

The council grants some $200,000 a year to symphony orchestras to help pay their deficits.

Cushion Found In Quarry

A diving team led by Laurie McCracken of Nanaimo today began full-scale attempts to recover the bodies of five miners believed to have drowned in 120 feet of water in a lime quarry on Texada Island.

RCMP from Powell River are in charge of the search and diving operations.

The five miners, missing since last Monday, apparently died when their car plunged into the quarry as they returned to Gillies Bay, on Texada Island, after returning by boat from a hockey game at Powell River.

CUSHION FOUND

Their disappearance was not reported to RCMP until Friday. Sunday a car cushion—identified by the car owner—was found floating on the quarry's murky waters.

RCMP headquarters here were still waiting at press time for word of the operation. It was feared that the caustic nature of the water might make it impossible for skin divers to work, and that a hard-helmet diving team may have to be taken to the scene.

PUMP IT OUT

If diving attempts are unsuccessful, a police spokesman said, an effort may be made to pump water out of the quarry.

The missing men were identified as Jack Wilkinson, 20, Donald Brock, 34, Bud Lewis, 47, Gary Reads, 21, and John Scott, 35, all employed as miners at Gillies Bay.

Discovery of the car cushion followed a long search of the 30-mile-long island opposite Qualicum Beach. Skid marks were also found leading to the lip of the quarry.

Police said the men landed at Blubber Bay and set out to drive the 15 miles to their homes. There were no high banks along the route where the car might have toppled over into the sea, as was first believed.

Government Employees Take Oath

Forty new B.C. Government workers, 22 in Victoria, took their oath of office in courthouse ceremonies throughout the province today.

Under a new system the ceremonies will be held every two weeks.

In Victoria, court registrar B. J. B. Morahan officiated. Monocled and employing a crisp British accent and a manner acquired in the British colonial service in the Far East, he made the occasion one to be remembered.

HE TOLD 'EM

"The oath of office is binding assurance you will perform your duties faithfully, honestly and with discretion. No greater responsibility could you assume... the welfare of the people of British Columbia is in your hands," he stated.

He reminded the new employees, clerks, draughtsmen, a nurse and a lab technician among them—that any careless remark concerning their work could have serious political results.

He said if they write for publication anything in connection with their work, approval must be obtained from their departments.

French-Canadian Of Pioneer Stock Dies Here at 81

Funeral service for Dumont Huot, descendant of early French Canadian families, will be held Tuesday at 9 a.m. in St. Andrew's Cathedral.

Mr. Huot, 81, died Thursday. Born in Montreal, he lived at the ancestral home at Beaulieu, Quebec, until his retirement in 1943 from the federal civil service, then moved to Sidney and three years ago to 165 Cook.

He is a descendant of Canadian families who arrived here from France in the late 1600s and early 1700s.

DEAR ABBY...

Words On Christmas Parties

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I can't understand why large companies will work so hard all year to build good will and then destroy it all at Christmas with that foolish institution known as The Company Christmas Party. Very few companies invite the husbands and wives of their employees to attend these parties. Most employees attend because they are afraid not to. With all the free booze around and an excuse to drink it, it's a pretty dangerous time for the better half to be sitting home.

MORNING AFTER. DEAR ABBY: I think the annual Christmas Party should be limited to unmarried people only. I am a single woman, Abby, and I had a miserable time at ours. So did most of the other single girls. The competition from the married women was just unbelievable. One frowzy blonde came in a strapless red satin dress that was so tight she couldn't sit down in it. She took root under the mistletoe in the doorway and spent the evening kissing every man she could drag under it. All the single girls sat while the married women picked off all the men. It was disgraceful!

DISGUSTED. DEAR ABBY: I'd like to know if I'm "old-fashioned" or are there other wives who don't approve of their husbands going to Company Christmas parties without their wives?

My husband and I have never fought about anything in all the eleven years we've been married—until this came up. I finally won out and he stayed home.

MARCIE. Since then he has been so sullen and ugly I am sorry now I didn't let him go.

DEAR ABBY: Was I wrong to forbid my wife to attend her company's Christmas party when she was specifically told not to bring her husband?

My wife is not in the habit of going to mixed parties unescorted in the evenings. Furthermore, a married woman has no business being escorted by a man other than her own

In St. Luke's Church Ley-Jubb Vows Said

St. Luke's Anglican Church was decorated with golden yellow and white chrysanthemums for the marriage Saturday evening of Kathleen Stella, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Jubb of Dallas Road and William Henry Ley, son of Mrs. Irene Ley, Avebury Avenue, and the late W. H. C. Ley. Rev. T. D. B. Ragg officiated at the service.

A silk taffeta gown was worn by the attractive bride, flouncings of French imported lace formed the semi-circular Bertha neckline trimmed with sparkling paillettes. Full-fold skirt was applied with matching lace. Gown was styled with a lowered waistline. Deep pink roses and fern were in the bridal bouquet. Bride was given in marriage by her father.

Aqua green lace posed over taffeta formed the waltz-length gown worn by matron of honor, Mrs. F. Casswell, sister of the groom. Her hat and gloves were in tone. Miss Marguerite Fracy was bridesmaid. She wore a similar dress in rose pink lace. Both attendants carried bouquets of pink carnations tied with pink streamers.

R. Beneman was best man and ushers were Frank Casswell and Peter Jubb.

Miniature pink rosebuds to match the bride's bouquet topped a three-tier wedding cake which centred the bridal table at reception in Thistle Room, Glenshiel Hotel. Joe Sharples proposed toast.

A pale blue dressmaker suit was worn by the bride for her going-away outfit. Her hat of flowers was in tone and she had black accessories. She topped the ensemble with a muskrat fur jacket. Her corsage was of pink roses.

After a honeymoon travelling on the mainland and in Washington State, the newlyweds will make their temporary home at the Redwood Motel.

Luncheon

Members of the women's committee of the Art Gallery of Greater Victoria entertained at a buffet luncheon today prior to a tour of the gallery by Mayor Percy B. Scurrah and Mrs. Scurrah, and reeves, aldermen, councillors and their wives. Convener of the luncheon was Mrs. Atholl Sutherland-Brown. Assisting her were Mrs. Douglas Leechman, Mrs. A. R. Lort, Mrs. E. Gudewill, Mrs. David Macknight and Mrs. Angus Kenning.

WoolLaceGownWornforWedding

Classic simplicity was keynote of wedding gown chosen by Helen Dolores Selin, daughter of Mrs. J. Walker, 1261 Fort Street, for her marriage to Henry Carus Kyle, son of Mrs. J. A. Kyle, Flemington, New Jersey, Saturday evening. "Queen Bees" winter white wool lace-over-satin formed the cocktail-length gown that featured a slightly rounded neckline, long sleeves and skirt softened by unpressed pleats. Bow of the same lace held in place her shoulder-length veil. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and pink rosebuds.

Chrysanthemums in warm shades of yellow, orange and bronze decorated Grace Lutheran Church for the ceremony. Rev. Loran Nadiger officiated. John Walker escorted the bride up the aisle. Only attendant was the bride's sister, Mrs. W. Haddon. Her gown was of Bermuda beige lace and satin in bronze and rose tones. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and yellow rosebuds.

Brother-in-law of the bride, William Haddon, was best man.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Haddon. A Swedish smorgasbord was served.

For a honeymoon trip Up-Island the bride chose a moss green mohair dress, topped by a black Blin and Billa coat. She wore accessories to match the green of her dress. Corsage was a white gardenia.

BOXES: CRACKER, BERRY, STUCCO

This last week we had some great discussion on current Canadian housing conditions. Vancouver architect, who has been across Canada to examine Canadian residential environment commented "Canadian people are living in endless rows of strawberry boxes." Victoria architect agreed, only called them cracker boxes. Strangely enough in my last week's article, I described the continual building of stucco boxes arranged for maximum use of material and contemporary architecture. I thought I was launched on a rant about people to phone me and ask, "What do you think?" I'll try and answer these questions. Stucco boxes of the species we see today hatched during the Second World War. They generally are found perched behind a pile of books and newspapers, looking out over the street line, 5 feet from one neighbor's boundary line, 10 feet from the other, and are entered by climbing up 4 to 8 steps in front or a lik number at the rear. They are bound to have large picture windows through which one looks onto the street and into the house beyond. The usual number of rooms will be four, and will be made to look smaller by the use of cove'd ceilings and heavy tapestry curtains.

Why has this type of home sold so readily? Firstly it was a question of conformity, conformity has always been a pattern which is a must for most people. Secondly, because most people generally didn't realize what they would have in the way of livability if they bought a house of their own. The same money. Thirdly, when the were first being built they served as a social need for young married couples. There is a growing awareness of the desirability of better site development and many people are wanting more privacy in their homes. This, of course, is coming about by public pressure, and the result will be more leisure hours, the second is a more gracious way of living will come to life.

Sooke Boy Drowned as Makeshift Raft Tips

TERRY BROTHERSTON
... fatal ventureBoat
Too Late

Terry Lee Brotherston, 12, of East Sooke, who paddled off on a makeshift raft just minutes before relatives arrived at his home with a boat for him, drowned Sunday afternoon in Sooke Harbor while trying to swim ashore.

Help arrived within minutes but artificial respiration given on the spot, and later by a Sooke Volunteer Fire Department inhalator crew, failed to revive the boy.

The accident occurred shortly after 3.30 p.m. while Terry was setting out his own crab traps about 100 feet off shore, and adjacent to his parents' large piece of property in East Sooke. On shore watching him were Dale Lowe, nine, and Robbie Kennedy, eight, his cousins, and his younger brother, Steven, eight.

STARTED TO SWIM

The raft tipped, throwing Terry into the water. He called out to his shore-mates to go for help, but then he gave up a long struggle to climb on the raft and started to swim for shore. Dale Lowe ran to the Brotherston home to tell his and the others' parents.

Don Lowe, Dale's father and uncle of the victim, rushed to the scene and plunged into the water to find the lad under the surface about 40 feet from shore. He started artificial respiration while others sent for the fire department, RCMP from Colwood, and Dr. Jeffrey Bishop of Sooke.

It also was Mr. Lowe who had provided the boat for Terry to use instead of the raft in tending his crab traps.

According to his friends, Terry was able to swim, but was hampered Sunday by his clothing and heavy rubber boots. He was in the water about 15 minutes before he sank, they said.

The family had lived in Langford until last September, and moved to East Sooke in time for the children to start school there. Terry attended Saseenos Elementary School.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brotherston, said he was "crazy about the water," and spent all his spare time either down at the shore or paddling on his raft.

NO INQUEST

The tragedy occurred about one-quarter mile from the family home. Police said no inquest will be held into the death, but that there will be an inquiry.

Surviving besides his parents and brother Steven are a sister, Kathy, seven; another brother, Brydon, two; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Johnson, of Langford, who were visiting the Brotherstons at the time of the accident; and another grandmother, Mrs. V. Pepper, of Victoria. He had nine aunts and six uncles, and was one of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson's 26 grandchildren.

Funeral will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. at Sands Chapel of Heather, Colwood, and interment will be at Hatley Memorial Gardens.

Riot Guns Blaze in Uganda

KAMPALA, Uganda (Reuters)—Police opened fire with riot guns in Uganda today for the second time in three days as disturbances over tax assessments spread in the eastern part of the country.

Nobody was injured. The crowd reformed after the firing and was finally dispersed with tear gas.

Three hundred extra police were sent to trouble spots in this British territory and the government announced tonight that two companies of the Uganda rifles were being moved in.

The disturbances grew out of assessments by local committees of the amount of tax people should pay to their African local government authority.

One man was killed when police fired on demonstrators in the Mbale area of eastern Uganda Saturday.

A police plane today dropped leaflets over the region telling Africans an inquiry would be made into the tax grievances and appealing for calm.

EMERGENCY DECLARED

LEOPOLDVILLE, Belgian Congo (Reuters)—The colonial government declared a state of emergency in a jungle battleground of warring tribesmen Sunday after rejecting as "inhuman" a rough settlement reached by their chiefs.

Tight Money
Gov't Fault

OTTAWA (CP)—Opposition Leader Pearson today accused the government of being responsible for tight money and with trying to run away from monetary problems in an undemocratic, unconstitutional and hypocritical way.

Launching the 10-day throne speech debate in the Commons, Mr. Pearson described the Speech from the Throne outlining the government's legislative program for the parliamentary session as unimpressive and superficial.

He said the words inflation, defence, fiscal and economic policy do not even appear in the speech, and unemployment appears only once.

Mr. Pearson called for establishment of a small committee to give full consideration to Canada's defence position, charging that the government has told the country nothing about the policies.

Turning to fiscal matters, the opposition leader said unemployment evils of a recession have been accompanied by some of the worst monetary results of a boom with tight money and interest rates at unprecedented levels.

Mr. Pearson said that in the last two years the government did not keep its fiscal policy flexible and this was the main source of current financial and monetary trouble and lack of confidence in the government.

Beyond Means'

WINNIPEG (CP)—James Coyne, governor of the Bank of Canada, today said Canadians have been "living beyond our means on a grand scale" for at least five years.

He said bluntly that Canada must resolve to live within its means—is expanding its capital resources and consumer expenditures—or face going even deeper into the red in the nation's foreign debt.

A succession of big annual deficits in international payments since the Second World War "shows that our situation is not temporary but is becoming chronic," Mr. Coyne said in a luncheon speech to the Canadian Club of Winnipeg.

This deficit increased last year to around the 1956 level of $1,366,000,000 he said "and seems likely to increase in 1960 to a new record high figure of $1,500,000,000 or more."

Mr. Coyne called for "a more moderate approach to capital spending in Canada" to help the country live within its means and to channel production into goods that would help reduce the big trade deficit.

Willingness to do without foreign capital borrowings, to limit new investments to amounts that can be raised in Canada, would reduce inflationary pressures, cut the annual deficit on international payments and increase Canada's ability to compete in export markets.

Mr. Coyne said an important item in Canada's trade deficit has been in volume of imports of capital goods—machinery and equipment for capital expansion.

The high rate of these imports was "symptomatic of capital spending at a rate which is greater than can be provided out of our own national savings."

In addition there had been a rapid expansion in the importation of consumer goods.

"In other words, we are incurring foreign debt to pay for both a level of capital spending and a standard of comfort which are higher than would be justified by our own earning capacity."

"I have no doubt that our exports could be further increased and our imports could be reduced if we adopted a more moderate approach to capital spending in Canada."

If governments and businesses alike brought about a substantial reduction in capital expenditures, imports of capital goods would be less.

"Moreover, if so much of our own productive resources were not devoted to construction, more could be devoted to production of export and more goods for the domestic market at competitive costs and thereby bring about a further reduction in the volume of imports."

U.S. TO PUT
MAN IN SPACE
NEXT YEAR?

(See Page 5)
WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower said today the United States may put a man in space in 1961.

He made the forecast in proposing civilian and military space expenditures of $918,000,000 in fiscal 1961 starting July 1.

Nasa's Mercury manned satellite project "will enter the operational phase" in the next fiscal year, the president said, and "actual manned space flights may be attempted in 1961."

UP AGAINST A BRICK MURAL?

Non-Union Art Hassle

TORONTO (CP)—Union officials will be asked today why they insist that Canada's largest mural, already two-thirds completed, be finished by a union artist.

The Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers of America (CLC) has served notice that it wants artist R. York Wilson and two assistants to join the union. The 100-foot mural is the only union work being carried out at the O'Keefe Centre here.

Mr. Wilson maintains "fine art is an individual and creative form of expression. I don't see how you can possibly unionize people who work as individuals."

It poses a grave danger to creative painting," Harry Colnett, Canadian vice-president of the union, said the union has "no intention of interfering with the God-given gifts of these people."

"I fail to see their fear. Perhaps it's a matter of further education to explain our point."

Mr. Wilson, a Toronto-born artist who has painted murals

here and in Montreal, has designed a panorama depicting arts and culture through the ages. The cultural centre is to be opened next September.

He will meet today with O'Keefe and union officials. David Roche, vice-president of O'Keefe brewing company, said union officials must explain their stand.

Charles F. Comfort, noted painter, newly-appointed director of the National Gallery and president of the Royal Canadian Academy, said a mural "is not within the jurisdiction of a union, as much as I respect unions."

"On the face of it," said Mr. Comfort, "this is ridiculous."

Trade Talks 'Give Hope' Says Fleming

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Fleming today expressed "satisfaction and hope," over developments of last week's vital trade talks at Paris.

In a Commons statement, he also voiced the Canadian government's willingness that Canada be a full member of a reorganized body for European economic co-operation as proposed at the Paris talks.

Mr. Fleming made the statements in an extended report to the House on the Paris conferences, which were aimed at finding a co-operative solution to differences between the two new European free trade blocs and increasing economic aid to under-developed countries.

He and Trade Minister Churchill represented Canada. He said that the short time available, the meetings "did not attempt to grapple with substantive issues of trade."

However, it did set up a committee to provide "machinery which could come to grips with these issues."

RHODESIA 'LION'S DEN'

Crucial Phase For Macmillan

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (UPI)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan arrives today in this stronghold of white supremacy for a visit that may generate new tension on the African racial scene.

It was a 3,000-mile hop from the steamy lowlands of free Nigeria to the crisp heights of this capital of the central African federation. For Macmillan it was a trip into a lion's den.

A large portion of the white population of the federation fears that this visit may be tied in with a move to break up the federation and possibly to free Dr. Hastings Banda, the African nationalist leader who has been in jail 10 months as a threat to law and order.

Many of the black population fear Macmillan may not go far enough in helping them edge out from under the master-and-servant relationship by which Salisbury's 85,000 whites have ruled the 180,000 black citizens since colonial days.

The uneasy federation is made up of Southern and Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland. It was formed six years ago and the inclusion of the almost totally African state of Nyasaland has been widely resented by the negroes.

Back of much of the discontent is the 53-year-old Banda who was charged with sedition last year during the height of a racial clash in the Nyasaland territory in which more than 50 natives were killed.

London newspapers reported he would be released next month. The Colonial Office neither confirmed nor denied the reports but implied he would be held till the governor no longer considers him a threat.

Cyprus Freedom Delayed

LONDON (Reuters) — A deadlocked conference on Cyprus today decided to postpone independence for the British island colony for one month.

Under an agreement reached here a year ago Cyprus was due to become an independent republic Feb. 19.

The three-day conference ran into a complete deadlock over the size of two British military bases to be retained after independence.

Archbishop Makarios, president-elect of Cyprus, requested the postponement with the approval of Cyprus' vice-president-elect, Fadil Kutchuk.

The other three parties represented at the conference were the British, Greek and Turkish foreign ministers.
